F O R E W O R D

Compiling a family history offers much in the way of surprises, pleasures and disappointments. Surprises in the turning up of unexpected material from unexpected sources; pleasures in being able to separate and assemble the various branches; and disappointments, when the failure to find a connecting link renders material all but useless.

Once the fascination of "ancestor hunting" gets into a person's blood it is there to stay, and that person is doomed to a never-ending quest----one of the most pleasurable pursuits of life.

Like most people who have Boone ancestry the writer has felt very strongly the ties of blood relationship and has been collecting bits of Boone lore and history for many years. This story of HANNAH BOONE and HER DESCENDANTS is just one of the results of this collecting.

As no one person could accomplish the work alone and unaided, help was sought from many sources, both far and near. To all who so generously gave material, I am happy to express my most sincere thanks, gratitude and appreciation. Without their help this story could never have been compiled.

Great care and effort were made to make this history as comprehensive and authentic as possible. While absolute accuracy has been the goal, the compiler realizes that it would be a miracle if no errors had been made. Therefore, your charitable forbearance is besought for any mistakes that may be found. Corrections, additions and documentary proofs will be most gratefully received.

With 'new arrivals' in the various families and the 'passing away' of others a work of this kind can never really be completed. So it is hoped other members of the family will "carry on" by making further search and adding their findings for the benefit of present and future generations.

Since this is one of the objects of its compilation, this brief HANNAH BOONE story will not be copyrighted. Each seriously interested searcher is welcome to use this data, the collection of which and its assembly has been a "labor of love" on the part of the compiler.

With the hope that the reader derives as much pleasure from the study of this history as the writer has had from its compiling, it is now left to his, or her, tender mercies.

May you have much "Happy Hunting"!

Sincerely,

Bess L. Hawthorne,

(a descendant of Hannah's brother,
George Boone)

MONROE COUNTY, KENTUCKY

AND

OLD MULKEY MEETING HOUSE

Note: Since Richard and Hannah (Boone) Pennington lived in Monroe County; Hannah is buried in Old Mulkey Meeting House Cemetery a few miles southwest of Tompkinsville, the county-seat; and their son, Daniel Pennington, lived most of his life in that county, a short history of the two might prove interesting to descendants.

An extensive narrative was written by the late J. E. Leslie, founder and publisher of the Tompkinsville News for 28 years, and was published on 28 October 1954 in the 50th Anniversary Issue of that paper, a part of this history is being used by premission of the present editor. BLH

MONROE COUNTY

"The territory now incorporated in Monroe County, Kentucky has an interesting history. This territory was first a part of the State of Virginia and was part of Kentucky County in that state. When the state of Kentucky was formed in 1792, all of southern Kentucky was carved out of Virginia and made a part of the new state - Kentucky. When the counties in Kentucky were formed, the territory now known as Monroe county was incorporated in Green county, Kentucky, with Greensburg the countyseat. When Barren county was formed in 1798, the territory now known as Monroe county was cut out of Green and incorporated in Barren county with Glasgow the countyseat. The Kentucky legislature of 1820 authorized the formation of a new county and named the new county Monroe. The territory included in this new county remains the same until this day. The new county, Monroe, was carved out of Barren and Cumberland counties. Three-fourths of the area of the county was taken out of Barren county. ----- Thus it may be seen that the territory now known as Monroe county has the distinction of having been a part of two states, and has had four different countyseats. The first was in Kentucky county, Virginia. The location of this countyseat is unknown to the writer. The second countyseat for this section was Greensburg; the third was Glasgow, and the fourth is Tompkinsville.

- - - - -

"The county was named in honor of James Monroe, then president of the United Colonies, and the countyseat was named Tompkinsville in honor of Daniel T. Tompkins, vice-president.

- - - - -

"There are farms today in Monroe county that have the identical boundary lines set out in the grant issue by the state of Virginia."

OLD MULKEY MEETING HOUSE

"About the year 1765, the first church building to be erected in the territory now within the confines of Monroe was erected on the lands now known as Old Mulkey Meeting House State Park. Those who organized this church acquired six acres of land and erected on it the first building. This building was placed on the west end of the six-acre tract and on the bank of Mill Creek. The building was constructed of logs and was about 24 feet by 30 feet, with puncheon floor, peg-leg seats and wooden window shutters. The following persons were the charter members of this church; Philip Mulkey and wife, Obediah Howard and wife, Joseph Breed and wife, Benjamin Gist and wife, Tazwell Tompson and wife, Stephen Howard and wife, and Miss Rachel Collins. This church building was erected and the church organized twenty-eight years before this territory was incorporated in the state of Kentucky. ----- For almost a century this was the only church building in the territory now known as Monroe county. Philip Mulkey, a charter member of the church, was the first preacher and was pastor of the church for many years.----- this small building [became] inadequate and in 1804 a much larger building, the present Old Mulkey Meeting House, was erected on a new site about two hundred yards east of the first building. The log walls are in almost perfect condition. The roof and floor of this building are not the originals, the first roof and floor having decayed and were replaced. This building is sixty by thirty feet, with puncheon floor and split-log seats and wooden window shutters. It stands today in every detail as a replica of the original building. One notable feature of this building is that it has twelve corners and only one other building in the county was built just like it. Mill Creek Baptist Church was the name given the first church building."

Later dissensions arose over doctrines and the church became divided into two sections. By agreement Philip Mulkey and his followers kept this building, which received the name of Mulkey Meeting House, and the other group built a church about one mile east. After a few years Old Mulkey Meeting House ceased to be used and fell into disrepair. About 1925 a civic minded group raised money to have the building repaired.

"The board's [board of trustees] first step was to put a new roof over the log walls. The next step was the putting in of new sleepers and laying a puncheon floor on the top of them as near like the first floor as possible. Split-log seats with peg-legs were added and the original wooden window shutters were installed. This improvement rendered the building in every respect just like it was originally built in 1804. ---- In 1931, the building and grounds were turned over to the state of Kentucky and was made a state park.

"Philip Mulkey was buried in the cemetery adjoining the Mulkey Meeting House now standing." Here, too, is to be found the grave of Hannah Boone.

The Meeting House and cemetery are located a few miles southwest of Tompkinsville on route 1011.

The Tompkinsville News was founded in 1904 and J. E. Leslie, the founder, served as its editor for 28 years, or until 1932.

HANNAH BOONE and her HUSBANDS

HANNAH BOONE
and
HER DESCENDANTS

by

Bess L. Hawthorne

NOTE: In Spraker's "The Boone Family" Hannah Boone is listed under the number 30, and only a brief history of her is given, due to lack of material at the time the book was compiled. Recently much information concerning her and her descendants has been gathered and a more comprehensive history of her can now be given.

HANNAH BOONE, youngest child of Squire and Sarah (Morgan) Boone and a sister of Daniel, was born 24 August 1746 (OS), in Berks county, Pennsylvania (1) and died 9 April 1828 (1 & 2) at the home of her son, Daniel Pennington, in Monroe County, Kentucky.

In the records of Rowan county, North Carolina, found in Draper Mss. 8 C 64¹ we find that a marriage license was issued on 14 February 1765 to John Stewart and Hannah Boone. John was born about 1744/45, it is thought in Pennsylvania, and died, it is believed, in late January or early February 1770, said to be the first white man killed by Indians in Kentucky. (3) Hannah married second, probably early in 1777, "nine miles of Shallow Ford, above the ford on the Yadkin River, Rowan Cty., North Carolina", Richard Pennington, (1) who was born in 1752 [Daniel Pennington Bible record] in Pennsylvania, died 21 December 1813, near Sparta, White county, Tennessee, (4) and no doubt was buried there. (5)

Hannah was born in Oley Township, (14) Berks county, Pennsylvania, but her birth for some unknown reason is not recorded in the Exeter Records, (6) as are those of her brothers and sisters.

When the long trek from Berks county, Pennsylvania, to the Yadkin District of North Carolina began in 1750 she was not more than four years old. Because of an extended stay in Virginia, by the time they reached their destination in 1752 she was nearly, or quite, six. Several years later the Indians became so troublesome in this section that Squire Boone took his family back to Virginia. At this time Hannah was said, by her son Joshua Pennington, to have been about twelve years old, or in her thirteenth year. (7) They stayed in Virginia approximately three years and then, after the Indians had made peace, returned to their home in North Carolina. (2) At this time Hannah would have been fifteen or sixteen years old and, according to the standards of those days, of marriageable age.

Living in this same locality was a young man a couple of years older than Hannah (2), whose name was John Stewart (Stuart). There are indications that he may have been born in Pennsylvania, though it is related by Hannah's son, Daniel Pennington, that he was "raised principally on the Yadkin in Rowan County, North Carolina. (2) George T. Edson, Olathe, Kansas, editor of the Stewart Clan Magazine writes, "I know that Daniel Boone's father, before he went to the Yadkin River valley, lived in Rockingham County, Virginia. At Orange, Va., I found the record of a deed to George Boone of Berks County, Pa., by some German (whose name I printed but do not recall now) to land in what is now Rockingham (then Orange) county. There were Stewarts living near the Boones in Rockingham County at that time, and one family of them went to the Yadkin river valley. * * * * * The Samuel Stewart who went to North Carolina about the same time had a son named John whose whereabouts is still conjectural".

In her "This Life I've Loved" [published in 1937] by Isobel (Osbourne-Strong) Field, a descendant of John Stewart, she tells an interesting legend, handed down in her family, concerning his early history. Members of other lines in this branch of the family had never heard of this legend until they read it in Mrs. Field's book so it may not be true. Mrs. Field tells the story as it was related by her grandmother Cynthia Osbourne, whose husband, Samuel Osbourne, was a grandson of John and Hannah (Boone) Stewart.

The story is that an Indian tribe found a little white baby boy and brought him up as one of themselves. When he was possibly nineteen or twenty [he did not know his exact age of course, and had never been told where or how he had been found] he ran away and in his wanderings got to North Carolina, where he was taken in by Daniel Boone, given a name and taught to speak the English language. Cynthia often wondered if the Indians, who killed him, had recognized him and, considering him a deserter, killed him in revenge.

Another possible solution to the question concerning the ancestry of John Stewart is found in the files of the Kentucky State Historical Society at Frankfort, Kentucky. Here we find that Samuel Stewart, born 1700, an early settler of Augusta county, Virginia, at Harrisonburg, now Rockingham county, probably came from Delaware. His wife, Lydia, is thought to have been a Harrison. About 1762 he removed with his family to Rowan county, North Carolina. His children were David, Samuel, JOHN, Isaiah, Joseph and Benjamin.

Among his neighbors in Virginia were David, John, Jeremiah and Samuel Harrison, their brother-in-law Robert Cravens and Alexander Herring who married Abigail Harrison.

David Stewart (1725-1807), son of Samuel Stewart, married Abigail Harrison [?]. His will was filed in December 1807 in Stokes county, North Carolina. His son, John Stewart, moved to Knox county, Kentucky and on 19 July 1819, he gave James Conrad of Stokes county Power of Attorney to attend to his interests in his father's estate.

John Stewart is described by Joshua Pennington in these words - "As to his personal appearance I can only speak the words of tradition, as handed down to me. He was of moderate stature, 5 ft. 11 inches high, well proportioned, excellent countenance, pleasing smile, entirely reserved in conversation, seldom jested even in romance, common complexion rather fair, a great hunter and woodsman more than ordinary." (7)

He is said to have gone at some time on an expedition to Florida with Daniel Boone and others. (2) The only known trip of Boone to Florida was made in the late summer and early fall of 1765, when they explored from St. Augustine to Pensacola. Game was scarce and the trip was hard. All of them suffered many privations and hunger. Stewart became separated from the party at one time and almost starved before becoming reunited with them. There is no record of any of them dying or being killed on this trip, so we may conclude they all reached home safely.

Evidently being lost and almost starving in strange country held little terror for Stewart for the next year [1766] we find him with Benjamin Cutbirth [Cutbirth Cutbird], John Baker and James Ward, all from the Yadkin District, following some unknown route, exploring westward to the Mississippi river. (8) This Benjamin Cutbirth (Cutbird) is undoubtedly the Scotch-Irishman who married Elizabeth Wilcox (Wilcoxin), a daughter of Saran (Boone) Wilcox and a niece of Daniel Boone. [See "Boone Family", pp. 57 and 108 under No. 80.] This is thought to be the first party of Carolinians to cross the mountains and go as far west as the Mississippi river. The glowing reports of the country west of the mountains they brought back to the Yadkin crystallized Daniel Boone's determination to see it for himself.

He and William Hill made an unsuccessful attempt in the autumn of 1767 to penetrate to the central part of Kentucky by crossing the Blue Ridge and Allegheny mountains, the Holston and Clinch rivers near their sources, finally reaching what is now Floyd county, Kentucky. This route proved too difficult for them to go further, so they had to return home, delayed but not discouraged or defeated.

In the winter of 1768-69, John Findley (Finley) visited Daniel Boone and told him of the route through Ouasioto (Cumberland) Gap. Early in March 1769 a conference was held in Salisbury, at which John Stewart, Boone, and John Findley were no doubt present. At that time plans were made for a party to go through the Gap and explore the country.

It took a little time to make arrangements for such a trip, so it was not until May 1, 1769, that the party, consisting of John Stewart (8a) noted as a skilled woodsman, his brother-in-law Daniel Boone, Joseph Holden, James Mooney, and William Cooley under the guidance of John Findley, set out. They crossed the mountains through Cumberland Gap and made their first camp, called Station Camp, on Station Camp Creek a tributary to Red Lick Fork of the Kentucky river. On June 7 they reached Findley's old trading camp but found it had been burned with only a few charred remnants left to show where it had been.

Game was plentiful and quite a store of pelts and provisions had been collected at their "station camp", when bad luck put in an appearance. On December 22 (1769) Stewart and Boone, while on a hunt, were captured by a large party of Shawnee Indians, who forced them to lead the party to their camp. The Indians robbed the camp of all the furs, supplies and horses, leaving them some inferior guns and a little ammunition. Before leaving, the Indians warned them to leave the country, which they claimed as their hunting-grounds, and not to come back or "the wasps and yellow jackets will sting you severely."

Stewart and Boone were much upset over losing their things and especially over losing the horses. So for two days they followed the Indians, who had set out for the Ohio river and home. In the middle of the night they managed to slip into the Indians' camp and escape with two horses. The loss was soon discovered by the Indians, who followed them, and two days later Stewart and Boone were again captives. This time the Indians did not turn them loose but started north taking them along as prisoners. Naturally the two white men had to stand many taunts and jeers from their captors. Luck favored them however and they were able to make good their escape about January 4 [1770], after being held captive for seven days.

When they returned to their camp they found it deserted, the rest of the party having started back to North Carolina. Stewart and Boone followed them and, on overtaking them, were happy to find that Squire Boone, Jr. (8) [Daniel's younger and favorite brother and a brother-in-law to Stewart] had come out with a companion named Alexander Neely to bring them supplies, which, of course, were needed badly. Findley, Holden, Mooney and Cooley decided to return to the settlements in North Carolina, but Stewart, Neely, Daniel and Squire Boone decided to stay longer and hunt.

They made camp near the mouth of the Red River. Game was so plentiful they soon had a good supply of food and furs enough to keep them warm through the rest of the winter. It is said that Neely had brought with him a copy of Swift's "Gulliver's Travels", which they read for amusement the days when they could not hunt. From this book came the name "Lulbegrud" which was given to the creek which still bears the name.

Stewart Edward White tells us in his "Daniel Boone, Wilderness Scout" that Squire and Neely had come out very early in January 1770. In "Daniel Boone and the Hunters of Kentucky", by W. H. Bogart, 1876, on pages 52-54 is given Boone's narrative as told by him to John Filson. On page 52 Boone says, "Soon after this John Stewart was killed, and Squire's companion (Neely) returned home by himself. * * * * We remained there undisturbed during the winter". Again on page 54 he relates, "On the first of May, 1770, my brother Squire returned home by himself * * * * [for provisions and ammunition] * * * leaving me by myself without bread, sugar, or salt, without the company of my fellow creatures or even a dog or a horse." Thus we can be sure, from Daniel Boone's own words, that John Stewart was killed between the first of January and May 1, 1770. The fact that Daniel and Squire spent the winter there alone would indicate that Stewart was killed sometime in January, or possibly early February. He went out on a solitary hunt, as was his custom, and from this one he never returned. About this time back in North Carolina, Hannah's and John's fourth child, another daughter Ann Elizabeth [Betsey] Stewart was born on 25 February 1770. [Bible record, furnished by Rachel (McBride) Rossbottom, a descendant].

Several years later, while some settlements were being made on Rock Castle river, a skeleton was found in a large hollow sycamore tree on the southeast side of Big Rock Castle. A saddle, bridle, and powder horn were with the bones. Around the powder horn was a brass band bearing the initials "J S", so it was concluded that these were the remains of John Stewart. No bones were missing but the left arm was broken between the elbow and shoulder, so it was supposed he had been shot through the body, the bullet breaking his upper arm. (2 & 10) It is thought he had been able to hide from the Indians but had bled to death.

Daniel Pennington stated that his grandmother [Sarah Morgan] Boone died while his mother was a widow the first time, (2) and it is known that Sarah's death occurred in 1777. (2a) As Hannah's first Pennington child was born 23 February 1778, she and Richard Pennington, her second husband, must have been married early in 1777. "They were married in nine miles of Shallow Ford, above the ford on the Yadkin river, Rowan Cty., in North Carolina", relates their son, Daniel Pennington. (4)

Daniel Bryan, a nephew of Hannah, pinpointed the location of her home in a letter to Dr. Lyman Draper [Draper Mss. 22 C 22]. He related that, "Squire Boone [Sr.] moved to North Carolina and settled on Dutchman's Creek at the Buffalo Licks, where he died in 1763. (4a) There my father, William Bryan, first became acquainted with the Boone family and married Mary Boone when she was seventeen years old. * * * Stewart's wife (Hannah) was a sister of my mother, who were both sisters of Daniel Boone. She lived one mile from my father, William Bryan".

Dr. David B. Trimble, then of the History Department of the Alabama Polytechnic Institute, Auburn, Alabama, says he is convinced that Richard Pennington was a grandson of Ephraim Pennington of Morris county, New Jersey, and that he had a brother Timothy, but he is unable to find proof for either statement.

Daniel Pennington said that his father was not a great woodsman like Daniel Boone and John Stewart, that he was a farmer and had no more remarkable events in his life than any other farmer.

Following their marriage Hannah and Richard moved from Rowan to Wilkes county, North Carolina. On 7 August 1797, they left Wilkes county for Kentucky, going to Fayette county. They remained here on the Little North Elkhorn river, nine miles north of the present city of Lexington, until September, 1798. They then moved south of the Green river into Barren (now Monroe) county, where their son Daniel was still living in February, 1853. In the "Second Census of Kentucky, 1800", by G. G. Clift, page 228, Richard Pennington, aged 48, is listed as then living in Barren county, and in Order Book I for Barren county in 1801, page 102, he is named as having 100 acres.

Evidently they must have taken up residence at some later time in White county, Tennessee, (5) for Richard died near Sparta (Tennessee) on 21 December 1813, and no doubt was buried there.

Since we shall see later that their son Joshua, newly married to 'Polly' Gist, and their daughter Abigail (Abby), wife of William Gist Jr., moved from Barren county to Tennessee in 1806 with William Gist Sr. (father of 'Polly' and William Jr.), we think it very probable that Richard and Hannah were members of this migration also.

Following his death Hannah returned to Monroe county, Kentucky, and lived for the balance of her life at the home of her son, Daniel Pennington, near Old Mill Creek Church. She died on 9 April 1828, and was buried "on a point near the Old Church". (11) Later her remains were removed to the Old Mulkey Meeting House graveyard, near Thompkinsville, Kentucky. The log meeting house was built in 1798 of hand hewn logs, and is now a state shrine. Built by Philip Mulkey, the church is one of the oldest wooden buildings in the state. The log benches and pulpit are well preserved. (12) This is the inscription (13) on Hannah's gravestone.

HANNAH BOONE STEWART PENNINGTON
 Born 1746 Died 1828
 Married 1st John Stewart
 Married 2nd Richard Pennington
 Died at the home of her son Daniel
 Pennington, Monroe Co., Ky.
 John Stewart was killed by Indians about 1769-1770. His remains were found in a hollow sycamore tree by Daniel Boone when blazing the Wilderness Trail.

Before listing the children of Hannah Boone it seems fitting to explain what sources were used in compiling that list and the dates that are given. There being no will or Bible record in her case, we had to depend upon the statements or writings of those who knew her best, Squire Boone Jr. and her three sons. Since the three sons did not agree as to dates, a comparison had to be made and the most plausible ones used.

Squire Boone Jr., brother of Hannah and of Daniel the noted pioneer, wrote a brief record of the Boone family while at the home of his brother George in "Cantucke", 26 June 1792. Giving the marriages of his sisters, all of whom he wrote were born in Oley Township in Pennsylvania, he wrote further that "Squire Boone * * * * married Sarah Morgan, * * * * he had eleven children. These were all born in Oley township in Pennsylvania. His daughter * * * Hannah (married) John Stewart, but said Stewart had never a son by Hannah to bear his name, but three daughters, and then died, as supposed, by the hands of savages in Cantucke State." (14)

It will be recalled that Squire Jr. and Hannah were the two youngest children of Squire Sr. and Sarah (Morgan) Boone, and while they were young people of sixteen and fourteen, respectively, the older brothers and sisters were twenty or more and either married or out making their own way in the world. Then too, Squire Jr. was a member of the exploring party in Kentucky from which John Stewart disappeared to his death. This fact alone would make Squire Boone Jr. fully aware that Stewart left no son, but three daughters before he died. The fourth daughter, Ann Elizabeth (Betsey) Stewart, was a posthumous child.

This paper written by Squire Boone Jr. was handed down through the family of his son Jonathan to P. R. Fullenwider, a step-grandson of Jonathan. He, in turn, sent copies to two Kentucky newspapers, The Courier-Journal of Louisville and the Meade County Record of Brandenburg. The record was published in these papers 12 December 1879.

Over a century ago Dr. Lyman C. Draper, then Secretary of the Wisconsin State Historical Society, in conducting research for a "Life of Daniel Boone" which he intended to write, sent inquiries to the three Pennington sons of Hannah Boone. The replies of each one are still on file in the Library of the State Historical Society of Wisconsin, at Madison, Wisconsin.

Joshua Pennington, born 25 February 1778, oldest son of Hannah Boone and her second husband, Richard, Pennington, replied to Dr. Draper on 12 February 1854, regarding his older half-sisters, the Stewart girls, thus:

"The oldest daughter SARAH was born in 1767 and she married a man by the name of JOHN AUSBURN; [notice the spelling of this name].

"The second, MARY, married a man named SOLOMON AUSBURN; the third, born 1771, married JAMES LEWIS [her name was omitted]; RACHEL, born 1775, maked JAMES KING." (7)

Strangely Joshua does not list his own brothers and sister.

Daniel Pennington, born 3 December 1781, replied to Dr. Draper on 23 February 1853, with data on his mother's children as follows:

"SARAH STEWART was born in 1766, the day and the month I have forgotten. Sarah died in Macon (?) County in 1815; she married a man by name of OSBORN, a farmer. POLLY (MARY) STEWART, (born) 1768, married a man by name of OSBORN and they lived in Illinois and there she died, the date I do not know.

ELIZABETH (born) 1770, married a man by the name of JAMES LEWIS and they moved in 1822 to Jackson county, Missouri, and that is the last account of them.

Since you requested me to let you know how many children my mother had by my father, she had four -

JOSHUA, born 1777 in January and he is living in Tennessee, Warren Cty., near McMinnville;

DANIEL PENNINGTON was born 1781 on the 3rd day of December and has been occupying one farm since 1799;

STUART PENNINGTON was born 1784, June 10. He is now living in Illinois in Mc---- if alive [this is McDonough county];

ABIGAIL PENNINGTON was born 1787, January 24 and died in Alabama." (4)

On 21 December, 1853, Thomas J. Pennington, son of John Stewart Pennington, wrote for his father in McDonough county, Illinois. After explaining that his father was very ill and had not been able to sit up for two or three years, he wrote very clearly and conclusively of his grandmother Hannah in one brief paragraph:

"Grandmother, whose maiden name was HANNAH BOONE, was a sister of Col. Boone and the youngest of the family.  She married JOHN STEWART who lost his life on his second trip to Kentucky. He was killed by the Indians. She had four children by Stewart,

SALLY, POLLY, BETSY, and RACHEL.

She married RICHARD PENNINGTON about 1773 and by him had four children

JOSHUA, DANIEL, STEWART, and ABIGAIL". (15)

[Notice that there is an error in the date of Hannah's and Richard's marriage, and also in the birthdates of some of the children.]

These three sons of Hannah and Richard are hard to quote, because each, being human, makes errors.

Joshua does not name the Pennington children; Daniel does not name Rachel Stewart; Thomas J., writing for his father, gives his mother's second marriage as 1773, too early, and also says Hannah was the 15th child when there were only eleven. As Thomas J. said that his father had not been able to feed himself for a year and not able to 'set' up for two or three years, it is possible his memory was becoming weak and bad. That could account for his giving the too early date for his father's and mother's marriage.

In this article it is necessary for the sake of historical accuracy to include only those who are proven to be the children of Hannah Boone. Unfortunately, this restriction precludes our naming many traditional descendants who believe they descend from one of Hannah's children but have not yet found the necessary proof.

After giving this explanation of the sources and dates used, we now give the list of Hannah Boone's children, all born in North Carolina.

Children:

1st marriage: Dates given by George T. Edson, Olathe, Kansas, in his article on "John Stewart", published in the Stewart Clan Magazine, August 1952.

Sarah Stewart, b. 1765; m John Osborn

Mary Stewart, b. 1766; m Solomon Osborn

Rachel Stewart, b. 1768; m James King

Ann Elizabeth Stewart, b. 25 Feb. 1770 (Bible Record); m James Lewis

2nd marriage: Dates from Draper Mss.

Joshua Pennington, b. 23 Feb. 1778; m 1st Mary (Polly) Gist and 2d Sarah Howard

Daniel Pennington, b. 3 Dec. 1781; m Esther Frailey

SARAH STEWART and her DESCENDANTS

1-6 SARAH STEWART (16), oldest child of Hannah Boone and her first husband John Stewart, was born about 1765 in Rowan County, North Carolina, and died in September 1815 in Tennessee. In February 1853 Daniel Pennington wrote to Dr. Lyman C. Draper [Draper Mss. 23 C 37] that his sister Sarah (Stewart) Osborn died in 1815 in Macon County but failed to say in what state. Macon County, Tennessee, was not formed until 1842 from parts of Smith and Sumner Counties of which Davidson was the parent county. Barren County, Kentucky, formed in 1798 and at that time the home of the Osborns, bordered on Sumner County, Tennessee. Evidently Daniel Pennington should have written that Sarah died in "what is now Macon County". Now comes word from the records of Miss Nora Daniel, Emporia, Kansas, a descendant, that Sarah died in 1815 in Jackson County, Tennessee, which was formed in 1801 from a portion of Smith County. This leaves the exact place of her death uncertain, especially since Macon and Jackson have a few miles of common boundary line.

About 1782 she was married in North Carolina, probably in Wilkes County, to JOHN OSBORN, who was born 16 April 1763, in Shenandoah Valley County, Virginia. [See Pension Application S 32324], and died in 1854, at Center Point, Linn County, Iowa, where he is buried with a monument marking his grave.

He was a cousin of Solomon Osborn, who married Mary (Polly) Stewart sister of Sarah, and was a son of Robert and Ann Osborn, who moved to the Valley of Surry in North Carolina, where their two sons' baptismal records are found entered, in German script, in with the Moravian Church Records at Winston-Salem, North Carolina. John's baby brother, Ephraim, was baptized at the same time by the roving Moravian minister. [Do not confuse this Ephraim Osborn with John's eighth child, named Ephraim also.]

From Green B. Baum, Commissioner of the Department of the Interior, Bureau of Pensions under the heading "Washington, D.C., August 3, 1891" comes the following history of John Osborn taken from his pension application. (17)

John Osborn, although born in Shenandoah county, Virginia, "was living in Montgomery [now Patrick] county, Virginia, during his military service. In May 1780 he enlisted in Montgomery county, Virginia, to serve four months under his uncle, Enoch Osborn, captain of a company in Col. Preston's regiment of Virginia, going to Whitten's Station in Tennessee against the Shawnee and Cherokee Indians and the Tories, after which, in the spring of 1781 he served six months under the same officer at Blackmore Station, Tennessee, near the Cumberland mountains, to defend the frontier settlements. He served six months as light horseman under Col. Cleveland, ranging Ashe and other counties in quest of Tories. He was discharged in 1782. He was soon called out by Col. Preston to serve a few weeks with Capt. Ward. His last tour was for twelve months, as one of the garrison at Whitten's Station in Tennessee, in the command of Col. Preston. He belonged to the militia."

After the Revolutionary War he moved from Montgomery County, Virginia, to Ashe county, North Carolina, and later left there going to Barren county, Kentucky. It must have been after the death of his wife, Sarah, that from Barren county he, with his family, moved to Harrison and Fountain counties, Indiana. He was living here when, in November 1832, he made his application for a pension.

In Indiana he made his home with his son, Stephen, until Stephen and his family moved in 1851 to Center Point, Iowa. John stayed on in Indiana for a time, but in May 1852 he, too, left there and went to McDonough county, Illinois, where Sarah's youngest half-brother, John Stewart Pennington, and his family lived. He did not stay in McDonough county long, however, but went on to Center Point Iowa, to make his home with his son Stephen.

Here he died in 1854 and was buried in the Center Point Cemetery. In 1894 Dennison Post G.A.R., assisted by the citizens of Center Point, erected a granite monument to his memory. In addition, his name together with six or eight others is engraved on a tablet in the State Capitol at Des Moines, Iowa. Following is a copy of his pension certificate. (18)

WAR DEPARTMENT REVOLUTIONARY CLAIM

I certify that in conformity with the law of the United States of the 7th of June, 1832, John Osborn, of the state of Indiana, who was a private in the Army of the Revolution, is entitled to receive Eighty Dollars and ... cents per annum during natural life, commencing on the 4th of March, 1831, and payable semi-annually on the 4th of March and the 4th of September every year.

Given at the War office of the United States this 12th day of October, One Thousand Eight Hundred and Thirty-three.

Lew Cass

Secretary of War.

Acting Commissioner of Pensions

John and Sarah (Stewart) Osborn were the parents of ten children, six sons and four daughters. The list of these children was kept by the Osborns' great-great grandson, Israel Clem, now deceased, in his book which bears the date of 1905. The material for his book was collected by him first-hand from relatives, who knew the people about whom they were talking.

Children:

- 1-7 John Osborn Jr., no record
- 2-7 Aaron Osborn, lived in Platte Purchase, Mo.
- 3-7 Hannah Osborn, m. James Starr and had at least one child, James Starr Jr.
- 4-7 Rachel Osborn, m. Stephen Cochran. They moved to Illinois (from Indiana probably) and then to Iowa.
- 5-7 Mary Osborn, m. Ray.
- 6-7 Nancy Osborn, m. Gist. As her aunt, Abigail Pennington, married William Gist, it is quite possible the two men were closely related to each other.
- 7-7 Samuel Osborn, son of John and Sarah (Stewart) Osborn, b. 1792 in No. Car. [1850 Census of Linn Co., Iowa]; d. 21 Oct. 1851 in McDonough Co. Ill. [Records of Nora Daniel]

In his records Israel Clem states, "Samuel Osborn was buried some place in Illinois in 1851, having died from a hurt received the morning they left father's place starting back to Linn county, Iowa. In trying to catch one of his horses -- ribs broken". In writing about this Mrs. Eunice Anderson says, "I have felt that Samuel perhaps got as far as McDonough county, to some relatives there, where he died and is buried". Can anyone give the location of his grave? His death date is given as "October 20, 1851" in the Petition for Letters of Administration by his son-in-law, John Anderson Secrest, in Linn County, Iowa records.

He married, 17 December 1816, near Croydon, Harrison Co., Indiana, Lydia Maxwell (marriage bond on file there), who was born in 1801 in Pennsylvania according to the 1850 census record. In this census record she is found as "Sarah", but in all family and other records as "Lydia". She outlived her husband but for how long is not known. She may have been a daughter of Jonathan Maxwell, who signed the marriage bond as "of legal age".

Samuel and Lydia (Maxwell) Osborn were the parents of ten children, whose names and histories are given in the Israel Clem records.

Children:

- 1-8 Hiram Osborn, b. 1817; d in infancy
- 2-8 Sallie Osborn, b. 19 Jan. 1818; m. John Anderson Secrest, and they lived in Linn Co., Ia., or adjoining counties. Their children were Jennie; Ella; Annie; Josephine, m. Shields and moved to Ill.; Douglas; and Belle Secrest, who moved to Ill.
- 3-8 Nancy Osborn, b. 19 Feb. 1820 in Ind.; d. 16 Mar. 1862, near Shenandoah, Ia.; m. 20 Sept., 1838 in Warren Co., Ind. Bartlett Clem (b. 11 May 1813, in Butler Co., Ohio; d. 18 Feb. 1873, near Shenandoah, Ia.) He was a son of Henry and Isabella (Hancock) Clem and a grandson of John and Susannah Clem. John Clem served in the Revolutionary War in Maryland for 3 years as a private under Col. Stricker (Pension applied for by his widow, Susannah, R 2040). Isabella was the daughter of Capt. John and Ann (Graves) Hancock, from Louisa Co., Va., to Fayette Co., Ky., to Butler Co., Ohio, where both died. Ann Graves was the daughter of Thomas and Isabella (Bartlett) Graves of Va., and Fayette Co., Ky. Thomas died there 11 Nov. 1801. John and Susannah Clem lived for a time near Lexington, Ky., where their son, Henry was born. (Revolutionary War service for both John Hancock and Thomas Graves has been established by Mrs. Claud E. Gilliatt, D.A.R. National No. 271650).

Bartlett and Nancy (Osborn) Clem moved to Fremont, Co., Ia., in Nov. 1855. It is said there were only three or four other families in that vicinity at that time. They built a log cabin which later became the kitchen to the house still in use.

Nancy (Osborn) Clem was scalded while making soap outside in the yard. The huge iron kettle tipped over and she died from the effects of the burns. She and her husband, Bartlett Clem, are buried in the Singleton-Chambers Cemetery at Farragut, Ia., and both have tombstones.

Nancy was the mother of eight children.

Children:

- 1-9 Hiram Clem, b. and d. in 1839
 2-9 Henry Clem, b. 10 Sept. 1840 in Vermillion Co., Ill., d. 29 Mar. 1918 at Ft. Morgan, Colo.; m. 26 Sept. 1861 at Sydney, Ia. Emily Allen Ripley (b. 19 Apr. 1839, Dayton, Ohio; d. 13 Dec. 1915, Ft. Morgan, Colo.). She was a dau. of Dr. Samuel Willard and Eunice Amelia (Allen) Ripley. Emily Ripley was a descendant of Gov. William Bradford, Francis Cooke and William Brewster of the Mayflower, Gov. Gurdon Saltonstall of Mass. and many other old New England families.

Children:

- 1-10 Nancy A. Clem
 2-10 Charles A. Clem
 3-10 Bartlett A. Clem
 4-10 Samuel Willard Clem
 5-10 Ephraim High Clem
 6-10 Mary Isabel Clem
 7-10 Israel Dow Clem
 8-10 Elizabeth Ann Clem
 9-10 Almira Clem
 10-10 Effie Emily Clem, m. Harry Alva Moore

Children:

- 1-11 Eunice Moore, m. Elmer C. Anderson, and lives Richmond, Calif. She furnished this record of the family.
 3-9 Samuel Clem, b. 17 Apr. 1842; never m.; went to Montana.

- 10-9 Lydia Daniel, b. 19 May 1863; d. 19 Dec. 1923; m. 5 July 1879, Charles Stillman.
It is believed that Nancy, Samuel and Lydia were born in Iowa.
- 5-8 Elizabeth Osborn, dau. of Samuel and Lydia Osborn, b. 2 Oct. 1823, in Ind.; d. 24 June 1914, Fremont Co., Ia.; m. abt. 1847/48 in Ind., Ephraim High (b. 5 Jan. 1823, Licking Co., Ohio; d. and bu. in Fremont Co., Ia.) They moved to Ia. in 1856. After the death of her sister, Nancy (Osborn) Clem, in 1862 "Aunt Betsy" took the Clem children and raised them. Eunice (Moore) Anderson, a gt-grdau. of Nancy, writes, "My aunt (living in 1955) and my mother (Effie Clem Moore) remembered her and "Aunt Sallie" (Sallie Osborn Secrest) and loved them so. Said they were so gentle and kind to all children".

Elizabeth and Ephraim High were the parents of 8 children.

Children:

- 1-9 Martha High, b. 20 Feb. 1849; m. in Ia., Robert Henderson (d. at Shenandoah, Ia.). Their children were Susannah Henderson, b. 8 Dec. 1884; and Robert Henderson Jr., b. 25 Sept. 1886. Both b. in Idaho.
- 2-9 Jane High, b. 24 Sept. 1850; m. in Ia., Henry D. Ripley, a bro. of Emily Allen Ripley, who m. Henry Clem son of Nancy (Osborn) Clem. [see above] The Ripleys had seven children - Walter, b. 22 Sept. 1870; Emma, b. 12 Feb. 1872; m. 7 Nov. 1907, George Laird and was living in southern Calif. in 1955; Lucy b. 23 July 1873, m. --- Graves, and lived in Colo.; Louis, b. 23 July 1873, twin of Lucy; Samuel E., b. 11 Nov., 1881, m. Jessie Irons, and lived in Ft. Morgan, Colo.; Mary E., b. 16 Apr. 1885; Robert Leroy Ripley, b. 11 July 1889; m. and had children.
- 3-9 John High, m. Rosetta ----
- 4-9 Henry High, died
- 5-9 Marion High, b. 4 Nov. 1856, lived and died on their old farm in Fremont Co., Ia. Unm.
- 6-9 Adeline High, died
- 7-9 Susannah High, b. 22 Apr. 1859; m. Isaac G. Scott; lived at Shenandoah, Ia. Had 2 sons and 2 daus.
- 8-9 Willis High, b. 2 Oct. 1861; never m.; was living a few years back (1955).
- 6-8 James Osborn, son of Samuel and Lydia Osborn, no record
- 7-8 John Osborn, son of Samuel and Lydia Osborn, went to Calif. during the gold rush and died on shipboard while returning home.
- 8-8 Hannah Osborn, dau. of Samuel and Lydia Osborn, d. in Linn Co., Ia.; m. Joseph Rouse in Ia., who remarried after the death of Hannah and moved to Nebraska in 1863.
- 9-8 Jonathan Osborn, no record
- 10-8 Lucinda Osborn, dau. of Samuel and Lydia Osborn, m. in Ia. Joseph Berry. They moved to Oregon in 1852 or '53. [A note by Israel Clem says, "John, Jonathan, and Lucinda came west to either California or Oregon in 1852 or '53".]
- 8-7 Ephraim Osborn, son of John and Sarah (Stewart) Osborn, no record.
- 9-7 Stephen Osborn, son of John and Sarah (Stewart) Osborn, m 1st and 2nd, prob. in Ind., Jerusha Wood (d. 5 Mar. 1901, in Center Point, Ia.) Eunice (Moore) Anderson says, "She was most likely the daughter of Barbara Clem who married March 1, 1813, in Butler Co., Ohio, William Wood, as a newspaper item states. Jerusha was a grand-daughter of the Revolutionary soldier John Clem. Jerusha is the one who cared for and nursed John Osborn (father of Stephen) until his death. She was known all over northern Linn County for her whole-souled hospitality and charity. Stephen probably preceeded her in death as we are told she died at the home of her son, William. Both are buried in the Center Point cemetery".

Section III

MARY 'POLLY' STEWART and her DESCENDANTS

2-6 MARY (POLLY) STEWART, (20) second child of John and Hannah (Boone) Stewart, was born about 1767 or 1768, on the Yadkin River in North Carolina, and died in 1832 in Vermillion county, Illinois, near Danville. (21)

She married in North Carolina Solomon Osborn, who was born 1760/'66 in Scott or Lee county, Virginia, and died probably in Vermillion county, Illinois. He and John Osborn, husband of Mary's sister Sarah, were said to be cousins.

It is claimed that Solomon Osborn's father was a brother of Capt. Enoch Osborn who served in the Revolutionary War.

A Stephen Osborn, who married Comfort Langrum and whose will is said to be on file in Scott or Lee county, Virginia, had a son born in 1766. However, his will has not been located. And now there arises the question, "Was Stephen the father of Solomon?" So far this question is unsolved.

Just how long Solomon and "Polly" remained in North Carolina after their marriage and where they lived is unknown. However, in 1799 we find them and the children who had been born in North Carolina moving to Barren county, Kentucky.

Many of the records of Barren and Monroe (which was formed from Barren) counties have been destroyed, but there is an 1810 census of Barren county. In this Solomon is listed as being over forty-five and having a family consisting of one male between 16 and 26; two, between 10 and 16; three, under 10; one female [his wife no doubt] between 26 and 45; one, between 16 and 26; one, between 10 and 16; and two under 10. So in 1810 his family consisted of himself, his wife, six sons and four daughters.

So we know that it was after 1810 when he moved to Illinois and settled in Vermillion county. Other information about Solomon and "Polly" is lacking.

Children: [evidently not in order of birth]

- 1-7 Richard Osborn, born 1798 in North Carolina; died 1876, at Marietta, Fulton county, Illinois; (22) married 1821, in McMinnville, Tenn., Mary Shaw (d. 1846). Richard was probably less than a year old when his parents moved to Barren county, Ky. in 1799. Nothing is known of his childhood and youth. Sometime, perhaps not long after their marriage, he and his wife moved to Mt. Vernon, Indiana. They lived here until 1835 and then moved to Illinois. It is possible they first went to Vermillion county where his parents lived, or he may have gone directly to Fulton county, since his mother had died in 1832.

Names and dates of Richard's and Mary's children are taken from tombstones and Bible records.

Children:

- 1-8 John Osborn, d. at age of 20; bu. at Marietta, Ill.; grave marked.
2-8 William T. Osborn, b. 1825; d. it is thought in Oregon; m. Nancy Harris. They lived in Marietta, Ill., until 1865 when they moved to Oregon. They are bu. at Farmington, Wash.

Children: (23)

- 1-9 Eva Osborn, b. at Marietta, Ill.; m. Charles Forbush, and had five children, names unknown.
 2-9 Elizabeth Osborn, b. at Marietta, Ill.; m. Samuel Laird

Children:

- 1-10 Artie Laird
 2-10 Ollie [Oliver? or Olive?] Laird
 3-10 Lula Laird
 4-10 Thelma Laird Taught in a college at Bozeman (?) Montana, and in 1954 her mother Elizabeth Osborn Laird, then 90 years old, was living there with her.
 3-9 Harvey Osborn, was living in 1954 at Post Falls, Idaho. His wife was dead and he had no children.
 4-9 John Osborn, d. unm.
 5-9 Frank Osborn, moved to Calif.
 6-9 Lola Osborn, m. William Price. They had no children.
 3-8 Mary Osborn, b. 1827; m.Harlan (?). No children
 4-8 Dr. Ely Franklin Osborn, (24) b. 1829; m Josephine Humphrey
 Children:
 1-9 Mary Osborn, m. George Funk, Portland, Oregon. They had a family whose names are not known.
 2-9 Edward Osborn, m. Hattie Emley. He was killed in a train wreck and is bu. at Garfield, Wash. Names of children not known.
 5-8 Wesley Osborn, son of Richard and Mary, b. 1831; d. Feb. 1889; m. Roxy Ann Johnson (b. 1829), dau. of William and Mary (Jenkins) Johnson, Maysville, Ky.

Children:

- 1-9 Willard Osborn, the youngest, b. 1872; m. 18 Mar. 1898, Leania Dimmit; was living in Marietta, Ill. in 1955. Willard Osborn had grandsons who have military service records - James Willard Osborn, Lt. in Navy 1952; Harry Dean Blount, Lt. in Air Force 1953; Clayton Blount, Navy. The grandson of Willard's oldest sister (neither name given) is an invalid in a Veterans' Home.
 Children:
 1-10 Nola L. Osborn, m. Harry L. Blount, lives at Berwyn, Ill. and has children.
 2-10 Wesley D. Osborn, m. Jane Ann Burrus (Burrows) of Avon, Ill., and has a child.
 3-10 Marcus D. Osborn, m. Idola Elwood, and has a foster son.
 4-10 Garnett Mae Osborn, m. Carl Formhalls, Smithville, Ill., and has 2 children.
 2-7 ---- Osborn, dau. of Solomon and Mary (Stewart) Osborn, m. William McCall. Her picture was in the possession of Willard Osborn, Marietta, Ill. She and her family moved to western Iowa. Their last known address was Dennison, Ia.
 3-7 Samuel M. Osborn, son of Solomon and Mary (Stewart) Osborn, b. 1802 in Barren Co., Ky.; d. 1849-59 in Louisville, Ky.; m. Cynthia ---- (d. 1860 in Louisville, Ky.), said to have been related to Daniel Boone. Samuel is known to have lived in Louisville as early as 1832 and as late as 1849, as is shown by Louisville

City Directories in the files of the Filson Club. He worked in Shadrack Penn's newspaper office in 1832; in 1836 he was a clerk in the Bank of Kentucky and in 1841 he was still a bank clerk; 1843-44 was City Collector; 1845-49 he was a Post Office clerk. On 19 Feb. 1837, he was a marriage bondsman for Jordan Stewart and (Mrs.) Mary Ann Downer, widow of James C. Downer, deceased. [Jefferson Co. Marriage Book 2]. After the death of Samuel the spelling of the name was changed from Osborn to Osbourne in this branch of the family.

Cynthia Osborn was described by a descendant as being a tall, gaunt woman who wore her hair in two smooth wings over her ears and had a little black bonnet trimmed with purple pansies that tied with strings under her chin. Cynthia used to tell that two of her uncles together with their wives and children lived in a log cabin in the woods. They were attacked by Indians and the two men defended the cabin until wounded. The cabin was set on fire inside with fire arrows. Soon the supply of water gave out and the women broke eggs and finally wet rags in their husbands' blood to put out the fire. Evidently the Indians failed to capture them or else we would not have had this story. But, whether true or not, the tale brings home to us just how perilous life was in pioneer days and what hardy, brave, resourceful folks our pioneer ancestors were.

Cynthia must have been a well educated woman for she used to read to her grand-daughter Abbot's "Lives of Mary, Queen of Scots, Queen Elizabeth, Napoleon" and others.

Samuel and Cynthia Osborn were the parents of three children.

Children:

- 1-8 Samuel Osbourne, b. 1837, in Louisville, Ky.; d. ?; m. 1st 4 Dec. 1857 in Indianapolis, Ind., Frances Matilda Van de Grift, of Ind. (b. 1840; d. 14 Feb., 1914, prob. in San Francisco, Calif., and is bu. on the Island of Samoa), and m. 2nd abt. 1880, a Miss Paul of San Francisco.

Nothing is known of the boyhood of Samuel but he is described as being a very charming man with the gallantry and good manners of a Kentucky gentleman.

He was only 20, scarcely more than a boy, when he and Fannie Van de Grift, aged 17, were married in a house on Michigan Street, Indianapolis, Ind. At that time Samuel was private secretary to Gov. Willard. Before he became 21 their first child was born.

In a few years the Civil War broke out and Samuel joined the Union Army, serving as Capt. of the 46th Indiana under Col. Fiske. In one battle he stumbled while running across a field and the man behind him was shot through the head.

Samuel's army friend and buddy, George Marshall, contracted T.B. while in the army and decided to go to California to see if the milder climate would cure him. He persuaded Samuel to go with him and they set sail. While going overland across the Isthmus of Panama Marshall died. After attending to his burial Samuel decided to go on to California.

He liked the country so well and became so enthused over the prospects, he wrote to Fannie back in Indiana to sell out and come out there. This she did and taking her young daughter went out by way of the Isthmus, visiting Marshall's grave while there.

When she arrived in California she found Samuel had gone on to Nevada so she followed him. It was a hard, unpleasant trip and living conditions were very primitive in Austin, situated high up in a canyon on the Toyabee Range, about six miles from the Reese River. From here they moved to Virginia City, which was located directly above the Comstock Lode. Fannie was very unhappy and she and Samuel did not get along well with each other.

In 1866 Samuel set off for Montana for a prospecting trip to the Coeur d'Alene Mountains, leaving Fannie and Isobel, now about eight, in Virginia City. This trip was a failure financially and Mrs. Osbourne moved into San Francisco. Later word came that Samuel had been killed by Indians and Fannie did sewing to support herself and child. One day he re-appeared and for several years things went well. During this period a second child, a son, was born.

Soon Fannie learned that Samuel had been unfaithful so she took her children and returned to her father's home in Indiana, where she stayed almost a year before returning to California.

While they were living in Oakland a second son was born. He was a beautiful but delicate child. When he was about four the final break between Samuel and Fannie came, and she left him in 1875. Taking her three children she went to Europe to study painting and art.

While they were living in Paris, Harvey, then about five, died after a lingering illness and was buried at St. Germain.

Mrs. Osbourne was so broken in health her doctor advised a change to some quiet country place, so she went to the village of Grez in Fountainbleu Forest on the River Loing. Here in 1876 she met Robert Louis Stevenson, a Scotchman, who was there too because of his health.

The same year the Osbournes returned to America. After a short stay in Indiana they went on to California where Fannie found a reconciliation with Samuel was impossible. So she brought suit for a divorce which was granted in time without opposition.

In 1879 Stevenson came to America and soon appeared in Monterey (Calif.) where Fannie was living. He and Fannie were married on 19 May 1880, by Rev. Mr. Scott.

After Fannie and Stevenson were married Samuel's mother, Cynthia Osborn, went to San Francisco to keep house for him. About a year later, probably in 1881, Samuel married a Miss Paul, a slim, black-eyed, curly-haired, quiet, gentle little woman. He bought a vineyard in Sonoma county; put it in her name; and they lived in an apartment in San Francisco.

One evening a year or two after his second marriage Samuel asked his wife to have supper ready for midnight and went to court for a night session. He left the court-house a little before 12, in his usual good health and spirits, and disappeared forever, with no trace of him ever having been found. It was rumored he had gone to South America. His deserted wife was befriended later by Stevenson and Fannie.

Samuel was popular in San Francisco, where he practised law; belonged to the Bohemian Club; and was highly respected among his professional associates. His business affairs were in good order. Large sums were owing the firm that his partner never could collect without his signature.

Samuel Osbourne was a first cousin of Verlinda (Robinson) Evans, mother of Mrs. Lydia (Evans) Wash, who furnished considerable material for this history.

Children:

- 1-9 Isobel Osbourne, b. 1858 in Ind.; d. aft. 1937; m. 1st shortly prior to 1880, Joseph D. Strong Jr. and 2nd ? Salisbury Field (b. 28 Feb., 18--). Isobel's early history has been told already with that of her father and mother.

When she was about 14 she met a young art student, Joseph D. Strong Jr., who soon left to study in Europe and it was four years before they met again. In the meantime the Osbournes went to Europe and Isobel is thought to have been nearly 17 when they met Robert Louis Stevenson. After the Osbournes returned to California Joseph Strong returned also and in a short time he and Isobel were married. Their first child was born while Isobel's parents were being divorced.

The Strong's followed the Stevensons to Hawaii and the Samoan Islands. Their second child was born in Honolulu.

While living in the Samoan Islands Isobel and Joseph Strong, now a well known artist of the Pacific Coast region, were divorced.

Just when and where she and Salisbury Field met and were married is not known by the writer, but it was prior to 1915, for in 1915 a year after Fannie's death (18 Feb. 1914) Isobel and Mr. Field sailed for Samoa taking the ashes of Fannie to be placed in the tomb of Robert Louis Stevenson on Mt. Vaea.

When her "This Life I've Loved" was published in 1937 Isobel was still living. She died at her California estate "Serena Carpenteria". She was thought to have the Boone-Stewart record compiled by her grandfather, Samuel M. Osborn, among her private papers. She indicated she did have this record in a letter, written a number of years ago to Willard Osborn, her cousin. However, it was not to be found.

Children:

1st marriage.

- 1-10 Austin Strong, b. abt. 1877, '78, or '79, in Calif.; d. it is thought prior to his mother as her estate named no heirs. He became a writer and playwright and died at the Lamb's Club in New York City. Proof of his marriage is found in the quotation, "Austin Strong and his wife ran down from London", (25) but there is no hint as to whether or not he had descendants.

- 2-10 Harvey Strong, b. in Honolulu; d. very young.
- 2-9 Samuel Lloyd Osbourne, 2nd child of Samuel and Fannie, b. abt. 1868, in Calif. He was much younger than his sister Isobel and was named Lloyd for John Lloyd, a friend of his parents. He had blue eyes and pale yellow hair as a child. He was only a few months old when his mother took him and Isobel to her father's in Ind., where they remained almost a year before returning to Calif. At the time of his mother's marriage, in 1880, to Robert Louis Stevenson he was about twelve. Sometime after their marriage the Stevensons went to Europe, taking Lloyd with them, and returned to America in May, 1887. Stevenson was very fond of him and wrote "Treasure Island" and also a number of stories and verses for his entertainment. Later, Lloyd himself became a writer and co-author of several books with Stevenson. He wrote "The Life of Robert Louis Stevenson", perhaps the best known history written about him. Prior to World War II Lloyd was associated with a Trust Company in Paris, France. It is believed he died prior to his sister, Isobel, as her estate named no heirs. It is not known if he left descendants or not.
- 3-9 Harvey Osbourne, 3rd child of Samuel and Fannie, b. abt. 1870 in Oakland, Calif.; d. 1875, in Paris, France, where his mother was studying art, and is bu. at St. Germain. He was a beautiful but delicate child. When the final break between his parents came, he was about 4 and was taken by his mother along with Isobel and Lloyd to Europe. He never got back to America.
- 2-8 Sallie Osbourne, dau. of Samuel M. and Cynthia, m. Dr. --- Reagan of either Canton, Fulton Co., or Neoga, Cumberland Co., Ill. It was probably Dr. Reagan, who served in the Union Army during the Civil War, for we are told that the husbands of both Sallie and Cynthia served in both armies. The Reagans had two sons, one of whom was a dentist.
- 3-8 Cynthia Osbourne, dau. of Samuel M. and Cynthia, m. William McConathy, a Confederate officer under Gen. John Hunt Morgan. She had two daughters living in Louisville, Ky. a few years ago. (1955)
- 4-7 William Osborn, son of Solomon and Mary (Stewart) Osborn, b. 1804, in Barren Co., Ky.; m. Elizabeth Humphrey [Humphries or Humphreys] She is said to have been a close relative of Daniel Boone. Search in Spraker's "The Boone Family" fails to disclose any Elizabeth Humphrey. However, on p. 492, John Boone (wife Elizabeth Alford) states in his pension record that he was a nephew of Daniel Boone. This John Boone had several children, one of whom is named Sallie (Boone) Humphreys. There may be a connection between these families.

William and Elizabeth Osborn had four sons who were in the Civil War.

Children:

Section IV

RACHEL STEWART

3-6 RACHEL STEWART, third daughter of John and Hannah (Boone) Stewart, was born probably in 1768 (38), in North Carolina.

In Draper Mss. 23 C 40 we are told, "She (Hannah) had four daughters by Stewart (Sally, Polly, Betsy and Rachel)."

There has long been a question as to which one of the first set of Hannah's children was the youngest.

To quote from the "Record of the Boone Family" by Squire Boone (Jr.), brother of Hannah about a year and a half older than she, "Hannah, (married) John Stewart, but the said Stewart had never a son by Hannah to bear his name, but three daughters, and then died, as supposed by the hands of the savages in Cantucke State". (39)

The third daughter of Hannah must have been Rachel for, as we shall see in the section devoted to her, Ann Elizabeth (Betsy) was not born until after the death of John Stewart.

In a letter to Dr. Lyman C. Draper, dated 12 February 1854, and written by Joshua Pennington, a younger half-brother of Rachel, it is stated that she married James King. (40) John Stewart Pennington, youngest half-brother of Rachel, stated that she married a King and had two children, Samuel and Sally who lived in Missouri but he did not know where. Elsewhere the names of the children are given as Daniel and Sally. There were probably other children also.

We know for sure that Hannah had a grandson named Daniel King. On 17 October 1816, Daniel Boone, then visiting in the home of his son Nathan near the present town of Marthasville, Missouri, wrote a letter to his sister-in-law, Sarah (Day) Boone wife of his brother Samuel. The postscript to this letter reads, "I red a Lator yesterday from Sister Hanah peninton by hir grand sun Dal Ringe She and all hir children are well at present."

D B"

A mistake was made in copying and the name "Dal Ringe" should have been given as Dal (Daniel?) King.

If Daniel King were writing for his grandmother, Hannah (Boone-Stewart) Pennington, this is pretty conclusive evidence that he, and quite possibly his mother, did not live too far from where Daniel Pennington, Rachel's half-brother, was living in Monroe County, Kentucky. Hannah was then living with her son Daniel as her husband, Richard Pennington, had died three years earlier in 1813.

This sums up the actual information that has so far been found about Rachel and her descendants.

There are a couple of items that may, or may not, concern her.

In a letter written 14 December, 1954, Dr. Hugh Calvin Rea, Route 10, Box 590, Charlotte, North Carolina, writes, "Was Mary Boone who married Michael King of North Carolina a lineal descendant of Daniel Boone? Michael was born in 1715 - died 1785. Mary was his second wife and was born about 1726. They were married about 1744."

Mrs. James R. Spraker, compiler and publisher of "The Boone Family," has no data on this couple and asks the question, "Could the King who married Rachel Stewart have been a son of this couple?"

If Michael King and Mary Boone were married in 1744 they would have been married approximately twenty-four years when Rachel Stewart was born in 1768, and if Michael and Mary had a large family one of the youngest sons could easily have been of suitable age to be the husband of Rachel. Be sure to remember that this is said to be a possibility, not that it is a fact.

From Blanchard's "History of Morgan, Brown and Monroe Counties (Indiana)", published in 1884, comes this item.

"Wesly Kirts, Washington Township, Brown County, Indiana, was born 22 August, 1836 in Hamblen Township, Brown County. He was a son of James and Rachel (King) Kirts. James was a native of Tennessee and Rachel, of Kentucky, and both were of German descent". (42)

If Rachel Stewart was born in 1768, in August 1836 she would have been about 68 years old and more likely the grandmother than the mother of Rachel (King) Kirts. This offers a nice problem for some interested descendant to solve.

We can say then with reasonable certainty that James and Rachel (Stewart) King had

Children:

1-7 Daniel King, thought to have lived somewhere in Missouri.

2-7 Sallie (Sally) King, thought ot have lived in Missouri.

No doubt there were other children as Daniel Boone mentions in his letter to Sarah (Day) Boone "all hir Children".

Since typing the above information the following note from Miss Grace Gaw of Cleveland, Miss. has been received.

From "Genealogy and History Magazine".

Thomas J. Barnes, b. 1805 in Estill Co., Ky.; m. in Ky.; Dorcas King (b. 1813 in Ky.). It is said Thomas J. had a brother, James, who was a half blood Indian. Thomas and Dorcas had children - James, 1831; Margaret, 1833, m. ... Gable; Rachel, 1835; Josephine, 1837; and Mary Ellen Barnes, 1848.

Because of her age there seems to be a remote possibility that Dorcas might have been a daughter of Rachel (Stewart) King.

Section V

ANN ELIZABETH [or ELIZABETH ANN] STEWART and her DESCENDANTS

4-6 ELIZABETH (Betsy) ANN or (ANN ELIZABETH) STEWART, fourth child of Hannah Boone and her first husband, John Stewart, was born in North Carolina, 25 February 1770, (32) after the death of her father. It is uncertain when and where she died but it is believed she is buried with her husband and other relatives.

Probably about 1786 she was married to James Lewis (b. 6 Sept. 1767 in Granville Co., No. Car.; d. in early 1840's in Platte Co., Mo.). While no one has been able as yet to learn the first name of James's father, it seems to be pretty well established that he (James) was a first cousin of Meriwether Lewis of the Lewis and Clark Expedition. (33)

It is probable that James met, courted, and married "Betsy" Stewart in Wilkes County, North Carolina, for it was there their first two children were born. Others may have been born there too but the younger ones were born in Barren County, Kentucky, where the family had moved in the meantime.

Between 1816 and 1825 the family lived in Crawford County, Indiana; St. Charles, Boone, and Jackson counties, Missouri, where many Lewises are still to be found. It is believed they stayed in St. Charles county only a short time and that was for the purpose of visiting "Betsy's" uncle Daniel Boone and his family who were then living in that county.

There is proof that they were in Boone county as early as February, 1820, for a grandson, Martin Tucker Lewis, was born there at that time. We are told that, "On land southeast of Rocheport (Boone Co., Mo.) generally known as Terra-puis Neck lived William, Jesse, Daniel, and James Lewis 1817-1820". (34) William was the first, Jesse was the second, and Daniel was the seventh child of James.

In 1917 on the 100th anniversary of the establishment of the oldest Christian Church in Missouri, known as the old Ashland Church, a little book was published. In this book the church clerk's record of membership for 1823 gives these names - Elizabeth, James, Byrum, Joshua, Margaret and Stewart Lewis. (33) James and Elizabeth are the parents; Joshua the fifth; Stewart the sixth, and Byrum the eighth child. From the arrangement of the list it might be possible that Byrum was not yet married and was living with his parents. Margaret was Joshua's wife.

When they arrived in Jackson county and settled near Ft. Osage, now Sibley, they were the fifth white family to become residents of that district.

There is record of James and Elizabeth selling land on 31 Mar. 1836; many other records of them buying and selling, (33a) and on 20 Mar. 1838, James willed land for a school. (33b)

James still had an unsatisfied desire to move on, so, later they went to Platte county and settled. Here James died sometime in the early 1840's. When and where "Betsy" died is uncertain.

Sometime about the late 1920's or 1930 a descendant, P. Loyd Lewis now deceased, visited an old burying ground on the farm of a Mr. Elliot near Platte City and was told by another descendant, James Lewis a great-grandson of the first James, that many of the older Lewises were buried in that cemetery and he believed both James and Elizabeth Ann were buried there too. At that time many of the older stones were tumbled over and the inscriptions were illegible. A new highway was being built that would pass very close by, or possibly over this burial ground.

In his migrations starting in North Carolina and ending in Platte county, Missouri, James traveled approximately one thousand miles, a trip none too easy as the only mode of travel in those days was by foot, horseback, wagons and flat-boats.

Descendants tell that all the Lewises were tall, the women dark, and the men, some of them six feet tall, were reddish blonds.

James and Elizabeth Ann (Stewart) Lewis were the parents of nine boys and three girls.

Children:

(data given by son Jesse Stuart Lewis)

- 1-7 William Lewis, b. 27 Sept. 1787 in Wilkes Co., No. Car.; d. 1856 Stockton, Calif.; m. abt. 1814 Elvira Sloan (b. 1789 in Augusta Co., Va.; d. 1851/52 in Platte Co., Mo.) (32a), dau. of Lt. Archibald and Rebecca (Guy) Sloan, both of Augusta Co., Va. Lt. Archibald Sloan (1759-1819) served in 1781 as Lieut. in Capt. James Sharp's Company, Light Horse North Carolina Militia. He died in Kentucky and was said to be a wealthy planter and slave owner.

William and Elvira were married without the consent of her parents and she was disinherited.

There can be no doubt that William lived for some time in Barren Co., Ky., probably quite near his father and brothers and the chances are that he and his family went to Mo. with his father, brothers and their families, for as we have seen they were together in Boone Co. in 1817-1820. There is no further history of him except that he finally settled in Platte Co.

William and Elvira were the parents of ten children.

Children:

- 1-8 Julia Lewis, b. 1815 in Ind.; d. 10 Feb., 1884 in Yountville, Calif.; m. Jeremiah Lynch (b 1811 in Tenn.; d. 1883 in Calif.) son of David and Sarah (Cary) Lynch. (Independence, Mo., Marriage Records, Bk. VI, p. 38)

Children:

- 1-10 Mary Ferguson, b. 13 Mar., 1864 in northern Calif.; d. 10 Nov., 1931 in Calif.; m. 1 Oct. 1882 Emmett N. Lea (b. 6 Dec. 1857 in Mt. Vernon, Mo.; d. 9 Feb., 1944).

Children:

- 1-11 Elvin Emmett Lea, b. 19 Sept., 1897 in Lake Co., Calif.; m. 21 Dec. 1937 in San Francisco, Doris Cronkite. Res: 4015 Butler Ave., Fresno 2, Calif.

- 2-9 Elvira Lynch, m. Rufus Franklin

Children:

- 1-10 Christopher Columbus Franklin (eldest son), m. 29 June 1881, his second cousin, Mary Elizabeth Lewis, dau. of Jesse Stuart and Mary Ann (Hobbs) Lewis. [see below]

It is said that Julia (Lewis) and Jeremiah Lynch had another daughter, and a son who died without issue.

- 2-8 Dorinda Lewis, dau. of William and Elvira Lewis
 3-8 Corilla Lewis, dau. of William and Elvira Lewis, m. 23 July, 1829, to James Ross, Jr. (Marriage Records of Independence, Mo., Vol. 1, p. 16, where the name is spelled "Currilla".)
 4-8 Anne Lewis, dau. of William and Elvira Lewis.

- 5-8 Jesse Stuart Lewis, son of William and Elvira Lewis, b. 22 Apr. 1822, Boone Co., Mo.; d. 6 Dec. 1899, Stockton, Calif.; m. 16 Apr. 1844 in Cedar Co., Mo., to Mary Ann Hobbs (b. in Ind.), dau. of Abner and Annie (Kelsey) Hobbs. The following note was copied from the Family Bible, at that time in the possession of their daughter -

"Jesse Stuart Lewis and Mary Ann Hobbs were married April 16, 1844, by Justice Martindale in Cedar Co., Mo. Witnesses, Jane McDowell, Samuel Hobbs, Cynthia Campbell, in a school-house of hewed logs."

Jesse Stuart Lewis is buried in the Lewis-Moreing plot in a rural cemetery near Stockton, Calif.

Children:

- 1-9 James Knox Polk Lewis, b. 7 Feb. 1845 in Mo. Left descendants whose names are not known.
- 2-9 Arrena Jane Lewis, b. 25 Nov. 1846; m. Cyrus Moreing and left descendants.
- 3-9 Eliza Ann Lewis, died at age of 3 in Mo.
- 4-9 Eliza Ellen Lewis, b. 5 June 1851, in Mo.; d. soon after her dau. Clara was born.

Children:

- 1-10 Clara ----, m. ----- Parrish and had a number of children whose names are not known.
- 5-9 Lydia Margaret Lewis, b. 8 Oct. 1853, in Calif. They had arrived by ox train on 4 Oct. and she was born under an oak tree.
- 6-9 Thomas Henry Lewis, b. 11 Apr. 1856, in Calif.
- 7-9 Mary Elizabeth Lewis, dau. of Jesse Stuart and Mary Ann (Hobbs) Lewis, b. 19 June 1858, in Calif, near Stockton; d. 9 Jan. 1947, at the home of her dau. in Los Angeles, Calif.; ashes placed in the C. C. Franklin family crypt in ----- Cem. near Stockton; m. 29 June 1881, to Christopher Columbus Franklin, her second cousin, eldest son of Elvira (Lynch) and Rufus Franklin. [see above]

Children:

- 1-10 Elinor Lewis Franklin, b. 24 Feb. 1889; m. 17 Nov. 1923, to Thomas Penrose Cruce, son of Richard Franklin and Sydney Connor (Bruce) Cruce.

Children:

- 1-11 Richard Franklin Cruce, b. 18 Apr. 1928; m. 19 Apr. 1952, at Carmel, Calif., to Patricia Helen Taylor, dau. of Jack and Mary Taylor of Antioch, Calif. He is a chemical engineer with Duponts and, in 1957, was living in Niagara Falls, N.Y.

Children:

- 1-12 James Taylor Cruce, b. 2 May 1953, in Compton, Calif.
- 2-12 Sydney Elaine Cruce, b. 10 Mar. 1955, in Daniel Murphy Hos., in Whittier, Calif.
- 2-10 Floyd Atherton Franklin, b. 24 Mar. 1891, near Woodbridge, Calif.; d. 19 Oct. 1922, in San Diego, Calif.; never married.

- 8-9 William Martin Lewis, son of Jesse Stuart and Mary Ann (Hobbs) Lewis, b. 6 July 1861, in Calif. Left no descendants.
- 9-9 Sarah Caroline Lewis, b. 13 Mar. 1864. Left no descendants.
- 6-8 John Sloane Lewis, son of William and Elvira Lewis, b. 1824; m. 1st Sarah Hobbs, sister of Mary Ann Hobbs the wife of Jesse Stuart Lewis, and m. 2nd ----- Stubblefield.
- 7-8 James Guy (or Guy James) Lewis [notice the "Guy" in his name], b. 1826.
- 8-8 Miranda Lewis, b. 1828; d. at Stockton, Calif.; it is thought she married twice - once to a man named ---- Farley - and left descendants.
- 9-8 Daniel Pennington Lewis II, son of William and Elvira Lewis, b. 1830; d. 14 Dec. 1905, or '06, at Elk Valley, Del Norte Co., Calif.; m. Anna Martina Hand, step-daughter of his uncle, Byrum Lewis [see 8-7 below].
- Children:
- 1-9 Sarah Jane Lewis, m. Charles Arthur McBride (b. Tipton, Mo.). His parents were from Mansfield, Ohio, and they went to Calif. via Mo., where he and his youngest sister were born. They were pioneers in Lassen Co., Calif., near Susanville.
- Children:
- 1-10 Rachel Martina McBride, m. Thomas M. Rossbottom. Res.: Lomita, Calif. They have several children and grandchildren, and it was she who furnished much material for the Elizabeth Ann Stewart history.
- 10-8 Martin Lewis, youngest child of William and Elvira, b. 1832; drowned in Mo. when a child.
- 2-7 Jesse Lewis, second child of James and Elizabeth Ann (Stewart) Lewis, b. 9 Apr. 1790, in Ashe Co., No. Car.; d. 28 Dec. 1884, six miles south of Atchison, Kan., at the home of his son-in-law, William Finley.

About 1812 he was married to Miranda Sloan (b. 23 July 1796; d. 25 Sept. 1853; bu. in Old Oregon Cemetery at Oregon, Holt Co., Mo., where her grave is marked with a gravestone.). It is said they eloped, and it is believed she and Elvira Sloan (wife of William Lewis, 1-7 above) were sisters. She too was disinherited because she married without consent of her parents.

Concerning Jesse Lewis, P. Loyd Lewis wrote, "--- his mother must have told him and his older brother, William, stories of her father, John Stewart, whom she had never seen as she was born after John Stewart went with Daniel Boone into Kentucky, where he lost his life."

Sometime before 1812 the family had moved from No. Car. to Barren Co., Ky., for it was there that Jesse Lewis enlisted as a private in Capt. Yeakey's Company, 3rd Regiment, Ky. Militia, War of 1812. He served from 1 Sept. 1812, to 25 Dec. of that same year. P. Loyd Lewis had the original pension certificate, issued 14 Oct. 1871, which granted Jesse a pension of $8 per month, but for some unknown reason a copy of it was not given in his history of the Lewis family. Another descendant, Miss Myrtle Hale of Kansas City, related that Jesse had served at the Battle of Tippecanoe with William Henry Harrison.

Taking his wife and children he accompanied other members of the Lewis family on the migration to Indiana, St. Charles, Boone and Jackson counties Mo.

On 22 May 1827, the townships of Jackson Co. were established and Jesse was appointed as the first Justice of the Peace. Most of the work of the Justices in those days consisted of officiating at marriages. Because of this Jesse became known as the "marrying Justice".

In 1837 he went to Platte Co., where he served as foreman of the first Grand Jury impaneled in that county.

His younger brother, Daniel Pennington Lewis, as Clerk of the Platte Co. Court signed, on 15 Sept. 1847, the Letters of Administration which named Jesse as the Administrator of the estate of his deceased son, Byrum Lewis [see 6-8 in the list of his children below].

Jesse Lewis loved a pioneer country and, when Platte Co. became too thickly populated to suit him, he sold his prosperous farm and in 1850, though past 60, moved up to Holt Co. For several years he, together with others, was interested in running a ferry across the Missouri river at White Cloud. He often related that the first meeting of the Christian Church in Jackson Co. was held at his home in Ft. Osage. That was before the church was organized in Independence. Rev. Augustus H. F. Payne, a celebrated Campbellite evangelist of early days, often came over from Clay Co. and preached in his home. (35)

He was elected County Coroner of Holt Co. in 1854.

A number of letters written by him to his children and grandchildren have been preserved. All of them seemed to esteem him highly and to love him greatly. Letters in his own handwriting show that he wrote a very clear hand. One of the most interesting papers in this collection was a Church Letter given by the elders of the Disciples (Christian) Church in Platte City, Mo., dated 3 Aug. 1848. This letter certified that "Brother Jesse Lewis and Sister Miranda Lewis" were members in good standing and recommended them to any church.

Jesse died in 1884 at the home of his daughter, Mrs. William Finley. He was the father of eight sons and two daughters. (33)

Children:

- 1-8 Sloan Lewis, b. 5 Oct. 1813. Served in the Mexican War under Col. Sterling Price. (35)
- 2-8 Wilson Lewis, b. 7 Sept. 1815.
- 3-8 William Lewis, b. 5 Dec. 1818. Served in Mexican War under Col. Sterling Price.
- 4-8 Martin Tucker Lewis, b. 6 Feb. 1820, abt. 12 miles from Columbia, Mo.; d. Feb. 1895; m. 1st on 19 Mar. 1843, by Jedediah Williams, J.P., to Mary Ann Thomas, (36) and 2nd to Ann Cotton. He lived in Jackson, Platte and Holt counties, Mo., going later to live in Cass Co., Neb. In 1849 he went to California during the gold rush and returned to Mo. several years later by way of the Isthmus of Panama. He was a farmer as were all the generations of Lewises before him.

Martin Tucker died at Maitland, Mo.

Children:

1st marriage.

1-9 Sarah Jane Lewis

2-9 Daniel Pennington Lewis III, b. 6 Dec. 1847, at New Market, Platte Co., Mo.; d. 6 Sept. 1909, in St. Louis, Mo.; m. 6 June 1872, Salina Annes Hershberger (b. 6 June 1855, at Warsaw, Ind.), dau. of Samuel (b. in Maryland) and Nancy (Jones) Hershberger (b. in Ohio). When 20 years old Daniel P. walked from Plattsmouth, Neb., to Oregon, Mo., a distance of about 100 miles, to attend eight months of school. He taught for a number of years. In 1885 Pres. Cleveland appointed him Postmaster at Maitland, Holt Co., Mo., and in 1890 he was elected County Recorder for that county. He died at the home of his son, P. Loyd Lewis, and was taken to Oregon, Mo., for burial in the same cemetery in which was buried his grandmother, Miranda (Sloan) Lewis, wife of Jesse Lewis (see 2-7).

To Daniel Pennington and Salina Annes (Hershberger) Lewis were born six children.

Children:

1-10 Leon Lewis, d. in infancy.

2-10 P. Loyd Lewis, b. 18 Oct. 1875, at Oregon, Holt Co., Mo.; d. ; m. 1st on 1 Oct. 1903, to Matilda Krome (b. 29 Aug. 1882; d. 20 Apr. 1907), dau. of August Krome of St. Louis, Mo., and m. 2nd, on 20 Nov. 1909 Ethel Mae Hough (b. 12 Feb. 1891, at Peoria, Ill.), dau. of Charles T. Hough, St. Louis. P. Loyd Lewis graduated from the Oregon, Mo., High School in 1893 and from the Uni. of Mo. in 1899 with a degree of Bachelor of Science in Electrical Engineering. On 4 May 1898, he enlisted in Co. I, 5th Reg. Mo. Volunteers in the Spanish-American War, and was mustered out on 9 Nov., of that same year. In 1916 he was Pres. of the Electrical Club of Kansas City and was made an honorary member in 1934. In 1922 he was appointed by the County Clerk of Jackson Co. as a member of that County's first park board. He served 10 years as a member of the official board of the Independence Boulevard Christian Church, Kansas City, and in 1934 was a member of the board of the Union Ave., Christian Church in St. Louis. In 1934 also he was the Chairman of the Fan Motor Section of the Nat. Electric Mfrs. Assn., and had been a Mason since 1900.

Children:

- 1-12 William LeRoy Kling Jr., b. 7 Dec. 1946.
 2-12 Robert Kling, b. 7 Dec. 1953, adopted.
 3-12 Elizabeth Ann Kling, b. 1954.
 2-11 Lyman Ryan Hanson Jr., b. 1 June 1924, Ft. Bragg, Calif.; m. 25 Feb. 1949, in Los Angeles, Frances Neal Reppelier (b. Philadelphia).

Children:

- 1-12 Peter Hanson.
 2-12 Barbara Neal Hanson, b. 1953.
 3-9 Ava Rene Peter, b. 13 July 1865, Napa Co., Calif.; d. 8 Feb. 1942, Stockton, Calif.; m. 27 May 1886, at Stockton, Calif., Owen David Carson (b. 30 Apr., 1860, Stockton; d. 23 Nov. 1943, Oakland, Calif.).

Children:

- 1-10 William McKendree Carson, b. 5 Feb., 18-- , Baltimore, Md.; d. 2 Dec. 1905, Stockton, Calif.
 2-10 Olive Carson, b. 1889; d. 1889, aged 9 days.
 3-10 Bessie Lee Carson, b. 17 Nov. 1890; Carson Ranch, Stockton, Calif.; m. 2 Dec. 1915, at Stockton, Howard Matthew Gunton (b. 30 July 1888, in Chicago, Ill.; d. 26 Sept. 1953, Oakland, Calif.), son of William Moore and Emily (Elliott) Gunton of Chicago.

Children:

- 1-11 Emily Avarene Gunton, b. 13 June 1917, San Francisco, Calif.; m. 17 Mar. 1950 Dr. Frederick Arthur Plella (b. Chicago), a widower with three children, Yates (a dau.) aged 14 in 1957; John, aged 12; and Steven, aged 10. He is a Dr. of Internal Medicine.
 2-11 Bessie Lee Gunton, b. 23 Feb. 1923; d. 19 May 1936, Oakland, Calif.
 3-11 Harriette Carson Gunton, b. 18 Apr. 1925; m. 1st., 20 Apr. 1946, Robert Waddell Boyd (b. 21 Jan. 1922, Panama Military Zone; d. 28 Sept. 1946, Oakland, Calif.) and m. 2nd, 18 June 1955, Atty. Donald Robinson Church (b. 1 Dec. 1922, Oakland, Calif.).

4-9 Arthur Peter, b. later than 1865; d. at age of 8.

- 7-7 Daniel Pennington Lewis I, 7th child of James and Elizabeth Ann (Stewart) Lewis, b. 20 Jan. 1802; d. 1873; m. Polly Paine. (39)
Daniel seems to have moved from one place to another, taking part in the family migrations. In 1827, at the age of 25, he received the contract to build the first court house in Jackson Co., Mo. He commenced it in September of that year and finished it in the following February (1828). It was built of hewed logs, now weatherboarded; stood on the site now known as 117 East Lexington Street, Independence, and is now used as a residence. (33)

Twenty years later we find him in Platte Co., where, as Clerk of the Court, he signed the Letters of Administration naming Jesse Lewis, his brother (see 2-7), as Administrator of the estate of Byrum Lewis his (Jesse's) deceased son. (40)

On 13 Aug. 1841, he became Justice of the Peace for Platte Co., his tenure of office continuing until 1849. Notes of sales by Daniel and Polly are found also in the Jackson Co., Mo. Court Records.

Children:

- 1-8 Martha Lewis, m. ---- Gordon.
2-8 Elizabeth J. Lewis, m. 20 Sept. 1848, Wilburn Christison.
Moved to Kansas in 1857.
3-8 Miranda B. Lewis, m. James Tate.
4-8 W. Wallace Lewis.
5-8 Theodore W. Lewis, b. 1836; d. 1894.
8-7 Byrum Lewis I, (41) eighth child of James and Elizabeth Ann (Stewart) Lewis, b. 13 Aug. 1804; d. 1886; m. Mrs. Violet Wilson (Jones) Hand, widow of Samuel Hand. Mrs. Hand had nine children, one of whom, Anna Martina Hand, married Daniel Pennington Lewis II, son of William and Elvira (Sloan) Lewis.

Byrum Lewis was a minister of the gospel and considered a very good one. In the "History of the Disciples of Christ in California"; page 76; E. B. Ware writes, "Byrum Lewis, Another fine exhorter and useful man in the pioneer work of the state. He baptized my father in 'Old Missouri' before I was born. He came to the state (California) in '54 [correction by Rachel Rossbottom gives '53] and labored principally in Sonoma and adjoining counties. He was frequently put up at the State Meetings to follow the man, who delivered the sermon, with a burning exhortation. The arrangement often brought good results. It was the writer's pleasure in after years to baptize sons of the grandchildren of the man who baptized his father."

Byrum died in 1886 and is buried in the cemetery at Kelseyville, California, near his daughter (Mrs. George) Virginia (Lewis) Shriver and his grand-daughter Daisy.

He and his wife were the parents of two daughters.

Children:

- 1-8 Virginia Lewis, b. 23 May 1857; d. 1952; m. George Shriver and had three children.

Children:

- 1-9 Daisy Shriver, m. Sloan Thomas Lewis, who may possibly have been a descendant of Jesse and Miranda (Sloan) Lewis (see 2-7). Daisy and Sloan had no children.

2-9 Alberta Shriver, m. 1st ---- Dunstan; 2nd -----; and 3rd Maxwell M. Pyle. No children.

3-9 George Shriver Jr., m.

Children:

1-10 Marshall Shriver, living in Lakeport, Calif. in 1955. Unm.

2-8 Laura Lewis, now dec'd Unm.

9-7 Mary (Polly) Grant Lewis, (42) ninth child of James and Elizabeth Ann (Stewart) Lewis, b. 16 Nov. 1806, in Barren Co., Ky.;
d. 16 Jan. 1874, at Vacaville, Calif.; m. at Independence, Mo.,
Jedediah Williams b. 18 May, 1805, in Knox Co., Mo.; d. 20
Mar. 1878, in Vacaville, Calif.).

Mary was given the name "Grant" because Elizabeth Boone, a sister of Hannah (Boone) Stewart, had married William Grant and was the great-aunt of Mary.

We know little of the history of this family. There can be little doubt they took part in the various family migrations for the only records of them are found in Jackson Co., Mo.

In the Bk. of Marriages, p. 45, we find that on 19 Mar.
1843 Jedediah Williams, M.P. "marrys" Martin T. Lewis (see
4-8, son of Jesse) and Mary Ann Thomas.

In the Probate Office in Bk. L, 2, p. 63, on 2 Mar. 1846
Jedediah was made Administrator of the estate of Bluford Williams (prob. his brother).

In the same office in Bk. A, p. 166, in June 1851, Jedediah sues Hannah Williams, Administrator of the estate of William Williams (prob. her husband) and receives payment.

"Polly" and Jedediah were the parents of a number of children, whose names were furnished by Mrs. Jesseye Dickerman from memory as she had no records.

Children: (Prob. not in order of birth)

1-8 Jefferson Williams, never m.

2-8 Franklin Williams, m. and prob. left issue.

3-8 Washington Williams, m. and prob. left issue.

4-8 Marshall Williams, m. and prob. left issue.

5-8 Perry Williams, never m.

6-8 Jedediah Williams, Jr., never m.

7-8 Thomas Stuart (Stewart) Williams, b. 22 Feb. 1857, Independence
Mo.; d. 7 July 1892, Suisun Valley, Calif.; m. 27 Nov.
1889, Louisa Anna Ellis (b. 4 July 1866, Glenwood, Ia.;
d. 8 Nov. 1949, New York City).. Louisa was the dau. of John Ellis (b. 19 Feb., 1819, in Sumner Co., Tenn.; d.
20 Dec., 1866, Glenwood, Ia.) who married on 15 Sept.
1852, Martha Jane Burger (b. 25 Sept. 1834, in Tenn.; d.
12 Apr. 1916, in Suisun Valley, Calif.). Martha Jane was the dau. of Abraham Burger (b. in Cocke Co., Tenn.)
and his wife Sarah (Lauson) Burger (b. in No. Car.).

Thomas and Louisa (Ellis) Williams had one

Child:

1-9 Jesseye Williams, b. 1891, in Vacaville, Calif.; m.
Hudson Dickerman (b. in Brooklyn, N.Y.). They had no children. In 1957 Mrs. Dickerman's address was 1868 Columbia Road, Washington, D.C. It was she who furnished the Mary Grant Lewis family data.

8-8--Harriet Williams, dau. of Jedediah and Mary Grant (Lewis) Williams, m. A. H. Vail. They had two sons, both now dead. One of these sons had a son and daughter, the other had no children.

9-8 Miranda Williams, m. James Riley Boothe.

10-8 Rosella Williams, m. Thomas Jefferson Rogers.

10-7 James Lewis Jr., 10th child of James and Elizabeth Ann (Stewart) Lewis, b. 12 Nov. 1808; m. ----.

In the "Kansas City Star", June 4, 1911, Miss Myrtle Hale wrote, "One James Lewis the second was the first minister of the Christian Church in Sacramento City, California. He and his wife made five overland trips to California and return in a prairie schooner, so greatly did they enjoy the vicissitudes which beset the forty-niners."

Children:

1-8 Riley H. Lewis, m. Martha Bell.

Children:

1-9 Charles Merritt Lewis, m. twice.

Children:

1-10 James Lewis

2-10 Clara Lewis, m. ---- Schultz and lived in Pacific Grove, Calif.

Children:

1-11 Helen Schultz

2-11 James Schultz

2-9 Alice Lewis, b. 5 July 1860, Sonoma Co., Calif.; d.

1 Jan. 1879; m. 1st ---- Barden of Salinas, Calif., and 2nd William Henry Crowe.

Children:

1st marriage

1-10 Lilly Bell Barden, m. Gilbert Whitney, and had

Children:

1-11 Thelma Whitney, m. ---- Archer.

2-11 Berniece Whitney:

2nd marriage

2-10 John W. Crowe, Milbrae, Calif.

3-10 Harvey J. Crowe, m. Catherine Jacobson. No children. Living in Santa Cruz, Calif. in 1954 and furnished above data.

11-7. Isaac T. Lewis, 11th child of James and Elizabeth Ann (Stewart)

Lewis, b. 29 Jan. 1811; d. 23 Nov. 1902, at Coyle, Okla., aged almost 92; m. 1st Mary Alice Wigham, dau. of Joseph Wigham, and 2nd Mary J. White.

It is said that the "T" in Isaac's name stands for "Terrill". In Wilkes Co., No. Car., there was a James Terrill Lewis who may possibly have been a relative.

Isaac was proud of being the first man who laid brick in Kansas City. James H. McGee built the first brick house in the city in 1834 and Isaac had charge of the brick laying.

He built the brick chimneys for the famous log cabin and log parsonage at the corner of Penn and Eleventh Streets.

This church, or a portion of it, was not torn down till a year or two after 14 May 1882, when the corner-stone of the Cathedral was laid.

At one time Isaac owned an 80 acre farm bounded on the north by Independence Ave.; on the east by Lydia; on the south by Twelfth; and on the west by Troost Ave. It was hilly and cut up by ravines so, in 1842, he sold it for $640.00 and joined his parents in Platte Co.

In his old age he went to Oklahoma and when he lacked but two months of being 92 years old, died at Coyle, at the home of his son. (35).

Children: (39)

2nd marriage

1-8 Alice Bell Lewis, b. 6 Sept. 1856; m. 12 Feb. 1874, A. J. Dysert.

2-8 Letta Lewis, b. 22 Apr. 1858; m. Oct. 1875, H. C. Dysert.

3-8 James G. Lewis, b. 14 May 1859; m. Hattie Lee Owen.

4-8 Thomas Lewis, b. 24 Aug. 1860; m. Belle Couglas. Lived in Oklahoma Territory.

12-7 Elizabeth Lewis, youngest child of James and Elizabeth Ann (Stewart) Lewis, b. 10 Oct. 1813. There is no other record of her.

In the Jackson Co., Mo., Marriage Records, p. 31, is the entry - Feb. 5, 1832. Bluford Williams marries Elizabeth Lewis. Mrs. Byrum Lewis, M. G. (Minister of the Gospel?)

As our Elizabeth Lewis was a little over 18 in Feb. 1832, it is quite likely this is the record of her marriage.

Jedediah, Bluford and William Williams may have been brothers.

Section VI

JOSHUA PENNINGTON and his FAMILY

5-6 JOSHUA PENNINGTON, oldest child of Richard and Hannah (Boone-Stewart) Pennington, was born 23 February, 1778, in North Carolina (43) and died when 90 years old at, or near, McMinnville, Warren county, Tennessee. According to this the year of his death must have been about 1868.

He, a farmer all his life, tells that he was married the first time on 20 February, 1806, to "Polly" Gist, sister of William Gist (44) of Monroe county, Kentucky, who married Joshua's only sister, Abigail. "Polly" died 10 October 1839, in Monroe county, Kentucky. In early days the boundary between Kentucky and Tennessee was not clearly defined, so this might be a mistake and Polly died in White or Warren county, Tennessee, instead.

When Joshua's parents moved from North Carolina to Kentucky in 1797, (45) he was some nineteen or twenty years old and not married. So it is quite likely he went with the family in their various movings about.

Joshua must have been an industrious, hard-working young farmer, for in 1804 it is found he owned 100 acres of land on Line Creek in Barren County.

Two years later he and "Polly" Gist were married and in that same year moved from Kentucky to Tennessee along with William Gist Sr., (father of "Polly") and "Polly's" brother, William Gist Jr., who had married his (Joshua's) sister Abigail, or Abby as she was called. (See the Gist Family sketch in the Appendix.) Since we do not know when Joshua's parents, Richard and Hannah (Boone) Pennington, moved from Barren county, Kentucky, to White county, Tennessee, we might not be wrong in thinking they went with this party.

However, we find listed in the 1810 census of Barren county a Joshua, Daniel and Stuart (Stewart) Pennington, who must surely be Hannah's sons. An explanation for this listing may lie in the unsettled state of the boundary line between Kentucky and Tennessee in those early times. And too, Joshua might still have been the owner of the farm on Line Creek even though he was living in Tennessee. Daniel and Stewart remained in Kentucky.

In Pension Record No. 7822, for Ephraim Osborn, a son of John and Sarah (Stewart) Osborn and therefore a nephew of Joshua, it is stated that Joshua's sister Jemima (this must have been his sister-in law Jemima (Houser) Pennington wife of John Stewart Pennington) testified that her brother Joshua was on an expedition against the Cherokee Indians with Osborn, but no date was given.

In the White county, Tennessee Court Minutes we find he was a juror 1811-1812.

The tax lists for White county show he was taxed on 222 1/2 acres of land in 1816 and again in 1826 he is mentioned as is a William Pennington who might possibly have been one of his sons.

In the 1820 White county census Joshua, then about forty-two, is listed as having a wife, two sons between ten and sixteen, three sons under ten and two daughters also under ten.

On 18 June 1854, from his home at or near, McMinnville, Warren county, Tennessee (Warren had been cut from White county in 1807, so it is quite possible that he made no change of residence) he wrote about his children as follows:

"We [he and Polly] had eleven children; we raised six boys and four girls. Our youngest daughter died. They are all married and living as far as I know. My oldest son lives in Illinois [probably in McDonough county where John Stewart Pennington, Joshua's brother, had settled]. Two sons and one daughter in Texas, one son in the western district of Tennessee. One son and one daughter in Nashville, Tenn., one son in Smithville, Tenn., one son and one daughter living near me." (46) Unfortunately he failed to give the names of any of the children; the names of the persons they married; names of grandchildren; or any other information.

When Polly died on 10 October, 1839, one son and three daughters were left at home with their father. Within three and a half years they were all married and Joshua was left alone. Finding it impossible after a year and a half to live alone and not wanting to live with any of his children he decided to marry again. So on 25 August 1844, he and Sarah Howard were married. (48) There were no children of this union.

Joshua lived some twenty-four years after this second marriage, dying at the age of ninety.

Children:

- 1-7 Oldest son, living in Illinois in 1854.
- 2-7 son - living in Texas in 1854
- 3-7 son - living in Texas in 1854
- 4-7 daughter - living in Texas in 1854
- 5-7 son - living in western district of Tennessee in 1854.
- 6-7 son - living in Nashville, Tenn. in 1854.
- 7-7 daughter - living in Nashville, Tenn. in 1854
- 8-7 son - living in Smithville, Tenn. in 1854.
- 9-7 son - living near McMinnville, Tenn. in 1854.
- 10-7 daughter - living near McMinnville, Tenn. in 1854.
- 11-7 daughter - died when young.

Abraham M. Hestand, who married Elizabeth Pennington (daughter of Daniel and Esther (Frailey) Pennington) had a brother, Daniel Boehm Hestand, who married a Susan Pennington. "Susan was probably the daughter of Joshua Pennington although I have made no effort to find out" - so writes Dr. David B. Trimble, San Antonio, Texas. The compiler has not been successful in contacting any of Joshua's descendants.

Section VII

DANIEL PENNINGTON and his DESCENDANTS

6-6 DANIEL PENNINGTON, the second child and son of Richard and the sixth child of Hannah (Boone-Stewart) Pennington, was born 3 December 1781, (49) in North Carolina and died 1 February, 1865, (50), at the age of 83 in Jackson (now Clay) Co., Tennessee.

He was married on 20 August, 1805, in Barren (now Monroe) Co., Ky., to Esther Frailey (b. 5 May, 1788 in Augusta Co., Va.; d. 30 April 1854, in Monroe Co., Ky.), a daughter of Christian (b. 14 Feb. 1759, prob. in Pa.; d. 14 Dec. 1810, in Barren Co., Ky.; m. 27 Sept. 1787, in Augusta Co., Va.) and Elizabeth (Harding) Frailey (b. 15 Mar. 1766; d. 20 Dec. 1854 in Monroe Co., Ky.). (50) Christian was probably German or Swiss.

Daniel Pennington (50a) was born, so says one of his descendants, in Montgomery (now Grayson) Co., Va., and lived in that part of Va. which was near Grassy Creek in Ashe Co., No. Car. He died, so says this same descendant, in what was then Jackson but is now Clay Co., Tenn. This is slightly different information from that given in Draper Mss. The difference in the place of his death may be explained by the fact that in those days the boundary line between Kentucky and Tennessee was not clearly defined and a mistake as to which state a place was in could be made very easily. This could be the explanation also for giving his birth state as Virginia.

Monroe county records were destroyed in a fire many years ago and this has caused much difficulty in trying to trace families who lived there.

Daniel was about 17 years old when his parents moved from North Carolina to Kentucky in 1798 and a year later (1799) settled in what was then Barren but is now Monroe County.

His name appears on the 1810 Census of Barren County.

He, himself, stated that he enlisted for six months and served in the war of 1812. (49) Daniel has a bounty land award in the Archives in Washington, D.C. about the war of 1812, but it gives no family information.

Very little is known of his life, which no doubt was quiet and uneventful since he was a farmer and Monroe County is described as being very backward and poor.

In a letter (51) written to Dr. Draper on 17 Apr. 1853, from Monroe County, Ky., he relates, "I was in company with Col. Daniel Boone in 1798 [that was the year they moved to Fayette Co., Ky.] in the month of February in Lexington, Kentucky, and had much conversation with him about matters of minor importance. If I could see you and converse with you perhaps you might gather something from it, but I could not write the little social conversations I had with him. It would look too simple. I would be wasting time and paper to no profit." At the time of this writing Daniel was sick and a friend, Phillip Emmert, was doing the actual writing for him. Much might have been gleaned from his conversations with his uncle (Daniel Boone) if only he had written them down.

Sometime after 1854 he must have moved to Jackson Co., Tenn. (now Clay Co.), for we find him living there in 1860. Esther, his wife, had died in 1834 so he may have gone to Tennessee to live with one of his children, as he was now getting old.

Recently, through the unremitting and untiring efforts of Dr. David B. Trimble, then of Auburn, Ala., but now (1957) of San Antonio, Texas, Daniel's Family Bible has been located and it is from this source the names of his children with dates of births, deaths, marriages and names of spouses have been learned.

Children:

- 1-7 S. Boone Pennington, b. 20 Sept. 1806, in Monroe Co., Ky.; d. ?; m. 12 Jan. 1832, Martha ---. He was a blacksmith and in 1850 was still living in Monroe Co., where it is probable he died.

All his children except William (3-8 below), who was born in Tenn., were born in Kentucky.

Children:

- 1-8 B. S. Pennington, 17 at the time of the 1850 census.
 - 2-8 Nicholas Pennington, 15 at the time of the 1850 census.
 - 3-8 William Pennington, 13, at the time of the 1850 census.
 - 4-8 Elizabeth Pennington, 10, at the time of the 1850 census.
 - 5-8 D. F. Pennington, 7, at the time of the 1850 census.
 - 6-8 C. F. Pennington, 4, at the time of the 1850 census.
 - 7-8 Mary Pennington, 1, at the time of the 1850 census.
- 2-7 Elizabeth Pennington, 2nd child of Daniel and Esther, b. 24 Feb. 1808, in Monroe Co., Ky.; d. 4 July 1900, in Clay Co., Tenn.; m. 17 Jan. 1826, to Abraham M. Hestand (b. 22 Oct. 1802, in Cumberland (now Monroe) Co., Ky.; d. 4 July 1877, in Clay Co., Tenn.), son of Daniel Hiestand, a German Mennonite, who changed the spelling of the name to Hestand. Daniel Hestand was born about 1772 in Shenandoah (now Page) Co., Va.; died about 1855 in Monroe Co., Ky.; married about 1793, in Washington Co., Tenn., to Elizabeth Mosier.

Abraham Hestand was a fairly prominent man in his community; had a library; and served as a Justice of the Peace. However, none of his sons or grandsons became men of prominence.

Elizabeth (Betty Pennington) Hestand told her grandson, Ferdinand Pemberton Hestand, oldest child of her son Daniel Boone Hestand, that she had sat on Daniel Boone's knee many times.

Abraham had a brother, Daniel Boehm Hestand, who married a Susan Pennington. She may possibly have been a daughter of Joshua, though there were many other Pennington families in Kentucky and Tennessee.

Children: (Daniel Pennington Bible Record)

- 1-8 Cynthia Hestand, b. 5 Apr. 1827; d. 17 May 1827.
- 2-8 Elkanah Dulaney Hestand, b. 1829; d. Aug. 1908, in Clay Co. Tenn.; m. about 1854 Mary E. Wright. Many of their descendants are still living in Clay Co., Tenn.

Children:

- 1-9 Susan Mary Hestand b. 1855; m. Hayden Turner Brown. Moved to DuQuoin, Ill.

Children:

- 1-10 Nora Brown
- 2-10 Lankford Brown
- 3-10 Cora Brown
- 4-10 Cynthia Brown
- 2-9 Florintha Hestand, m. George Eads. Res. Moss, Tenn.

Children:

- 1-10 Smith Franklin Eads
- 2-10 Savannah Eads
- 3-10 Ella Eads
- 4-10 Maxey Eads
- 3-9 Franklin Paylow Hestand, b. 1859; m. 5 May 1882 to Elizabeth Terry. Moved to DuQuoin, Ill.

Children:

- 1-10 Irvin Hestand, d. 1886.
- 2-10 Ella Nora Hestand
- 3-10 Edith Florintha Hestand
- 4-10 Martha Pearl Hestand
- 5-10 Helen Sylvia Hestand
- 6-10 Stanley Hestand
- 4-9 Isabelle Hestand, b. 1861; d. 1882; m. Clinton Plumlee Whitson. Moved to DuQuoin, Ill.

Children:

- 1-10 Lilly May Whitson.
- 5-9 Nancy Jane Hestand, b. 1863; d. 1882.
- 6-9 Forest Lee Hestand, b. 1869; m. Ellen Bledso. Moved to DuQuoin, Ill.

Children:

- 1-10 Clifford Hestand
- 2-10 Nola Hestand
- 7-9 John Milton Hestand, b. 1872; m. Lula Mayfield.

Children:

- 1-10 Delmur Hestand
- 2-10 Charles Hestand
- 3-10 Earl Hestand
- 4-10 Brant Hestand
- 8-9 Radford Hestand, b. 20 Sept. 1878; unm.
- 9-9 Elizabeth Hestand, b. 1886; m. Lee Sourlock. Res., Moss, Tenn.

Children:

- 1-10 Beulah Sourlock
- 2-10 William Sourlock
- 3-8 Daniel Boone Hestand, b. 11 Jan. 1831; d. 8 Aug. 1917; m. 2 Sept. 1855, to Mary Gist, who probably was closely related to his great-uncle Joshua's wife, Mary (Polly Gist) Pennington and to William Gist, husband of his great-aunt Abigail Pennington. The oldest known member of this Mary Gist line was named Benjamin. He had a son Benjamin Gist Jr., b. 1773; d. 18--; m. 1793 to Rhoda Hinds (b. 1775; d. 18--). Their son was Hiram Gist, b. 1801; d. 1850-1855; m. 1823, to Margery McPherson (b. 1803; d. 1882), and their dau. Mary Gist was the wife of Daniel Boone Hestand. Margery McPherson was the dau. of Jehu McPherson (probably from Scotland to Pa.; to No. Carolina; to So. Carolina; to Ky.), b. about 1758; d. about 1835; m. 1788 to Mary ---- (b. 1768; d. 18--). There were many Gists in No. Carolina, Tenn. and Ky. (52)

Daniel Boone Hestand was born in Jackson (now Clay) Co. Tenn., and died in Lockney, Texas. His wife, Mary Gist, was born 13 June 1834, in Monroe Co., Ky., and died 14 May 1919, in Anson, Texas.

Daniel served as a private in Co. B, 4th Tenn. Cavalry, Confederate Army, and is supposed to have engaged in guerrilla activities with his brothers. In 1866 he moved to Coffee Co., Tenn. where he was a member of the KKK. To escape prosecution he moved to Hill Co., Texas in 1876. In 1890 he moved to Anson, Texas. He was a farmer, said to be unambitious and uneducated. He was a member of the Church of Christ.

Section VIII

JOHN STEWART PENNINGTON and his DESCENDANTS

7-6 JOHN STEWART PENNINGTON, 3rd son of Rochard and 7th child of Hannah (Boone-Stewart) Pennington, was born 10 June 1784 (54) in North Carolina, and died 20 September 1859, at the home of his son-in-law, William Bird Pile, in Industry Township, McDonough County, Illinois. He was buried in the Pennington Point Cemetery in New Salem Township in McDonough County.

He was married on 24 March, 1807, in Barren County, Kentucky, to Jemima Houser (b. 24 Feb. 1788; d. 22 Sept. 1852 in McDonough Co., Ill.), daughter of Nicholas and Jane Houser of Barren County, (now Monroe) Kentucky. Monroe was cut off Barren and Cumberland counties in 1820. (55)

John Stewart Pennington, better known as Stewart than by his full name, was born near the Yadkin River in North Carolina. He was still only a child when the family left there, moving to Kentucky where they finally settled in Barren (now Monroe) county.

Like his father and his older brothers he became a farmer.

When he lacked about three months of being twenty-three he and Jemima Houser (Jamimah Howser, as given in the Barren County Marriage Records), of Dutch descent, were married. They settled near what is now Thompkinsville, Monroe County, and it is believed eleven of their thirteen children were born there. (56)

In the fall of 1829 he helped his son, Thomas Jefferson Pennington, and his family to move to near Astoria, Fulton county, Illinois, and then returned to his home in Kentucky.

The following fall (1830) he and all his family, with the exception of two of the children, moved to Illinois. The two who remained in Kentucky were the oldest son, Nicholas Houser who had a dry-goods store, and Nancy who had married J. E. D. Hammer.

They settled in McDonough county, in the district known as Pennington Point, and this was the second family of the name to settle in New Salem township.

A little history of how Pennington Point received its name may be of interest to members of this branch of the family.

Pennington Point was the third settlement in the county and still retains its original name. It embraces a little neck of timber land in the southwest part of the present (1878) township of New Salem, and at that time was the only timberland in the township. In 1834 Cyrus Walker is said to have named the district in honor of Stewart Pennington, although William Pennington was the first settler, having settled there on 1 January 1828. Three years later, in 1831, William moved away and went to Spring Creek in the north part of the county. (57)

The relationship between William and Richard Pennington (husband of Hannah Boone) has not been established but it probably was close. A brief history of William will be given later in a section devoted to notes about unplaced Penningtons.

Early in 1835 word came from Kentucky that Stewart's son, Nicholas Houser Pennington, had died and his business needed immediate attention. So on April 7th Stewart left for Kentucky and did not return until June 1st, when he brought with him the J. E. D. Hammer family. He sold his Pennington Point farm to Mr. Hammer and bought the Jeff Pennington [was this his son Thomas Jefferson?] farm in Industry Township onto which he moved in the fall of 1835 and where he lived until the last month or so of his life. (58)

After the death of his wife, Jemima, in 1852, it is quite probable Stewart made his home with various ones of his children. He was sixty-eight at that time and, no doubt, was no longer able to do active farming or care for himself. In fact, he was sick with consumption for the last eight years of his life.

In the late summer of 1859 he was taken to the home of William Bird and Nancy (Pennington) Pile [his son-in-law and daughter] to stay a while and died there on 20 September. He and Jemima are buried in the Pennington Point Cemetery, McDonough County, Illinois.

All the Pennington, Marrs, Pile and Hammer graves that will be mentioned are in one row in the Pennington Point Cemetery. The John Stewart Pennington marker is so sunken in the dirt that only the birth date, 10 June 1784, can be read. Jemima's marker has fared somewhat better and both her birthdate (21 Feb. 1788) and death date (22 Sept. 1852) can be read.

Stewart and Jemima were the parents of thirteen children, all of whom were born in Barren County, Kentucky, with the exception of the two youngest who were born in McDonough County, Illinois.

Children: in order of birth (56)

- 1-7 Nicholas Houser Pennington, b. 1 March 1808; d. 13 Oct. 1834 (59). He had a dry-goods store and did not move to Illinois when the family migrated there in 1830. He had been to New Orleans to buy stock for his store and while returning home took cholera and died at a town called Randolph [Ky.?] where he was buried. Nothing is known of his family.

- 2-7 Thomas Jefferson Pennington, 2nd son of Stewart and Jemima, b. 10 Mar. 1810; d. 27 Sept. 1875 or '76 "of dropsy of the heart" in Industry Township, McDonough Co., Ill.; m. (1) 29 Nov. 1827, in Ky. Mary 'Polly' H. Vanter (b. 14 Dec. 1807; d. 3 Aug. 1840, in McDonough Co. Ill.) and (2) 15 Apr. 1841, Mrs. Mary J. (Smithers) Rogers, a widow with one child, a daughter named Catherine J. Rogers. Mrs. Rogers had moved to McDonough Co. with her father, Thomas Smithers Sr. in 1834 and was married at Macomb 28 Jan. 1835 to Mr. Rogers, who died in 1840. (60) From another source comes this information that Thomas Jefferson was married to Mary H. Vail and in the fall of 1829 moved, with his wife and two small children [names not known], to Illinois, stopping for a while near Astoria in Fulton county before going to New Salem Township, McDonough Co. to settle. His father came along to help him get moved then returned to Kentucky. Thomas Jefferson Pennington served in the Black Hawk War (57), and represented Industry Twp. on the Board of Supervisors. He had moved from New Salem Twp. to Industry where he owned 160 acres in Section 17 and lived there until his death. His second wife was still living in 1885.

- 6-8 Jemima H[ouser?] Pennington, dau. of Thomas Jefferson,
- 3-7 Nancy Pennington, oldest dau. of John Stewart and Jemima (Houser) b. 19 Feb. 1812, in Monroe Co., Ky.; d. 26 Oct. 1887, (59) prob. in McDonough Co., Ill.; m. prior to 1830, in Monroe Co., Ky., to James E. D. Hammer (b. 28 Apr. 1809, Washington Co., Tenn.). They did not move to Ill. when Nancy's father and the rest of the family did, but remained in Ky. until 1834 or '35. At that time J. Stewart returned to Ky. to settle up the business affairs of his son, Nicholas Houser, who had died recently. When Stewart went back to Ill. the Hammer family went along. They bought Stewart's Pennington Point farm in New Salem Twp. and, so far as is known, lived there the rest of their lives.

Children:

- 1-8 Stewart F. Hammer, b. 31 Mar. 1831, in Monroe Co., Ky.; moved to Ill. when a baby and in 1878 was living in New Salem Twp., McDonough Co.
- 2-8 Infant son, whose grave marker is in the Pennington Point Cemetery in the same row with the other Pennington and Pile graves.
- 4-7 Richard Pennington, 3rd son of John Stewart and Jemima (Houser), b. 29 Jan. 1814, in what is now Monroe Co., Ky.; d. 26 Oct. 1891, aged 77 yr. 9 mo. 2 da. (63); m. 30 Jan. 1834 in McDonough Co., Ill. to Delila Shannon (d. 4 Dec. 1898, aged 82 yr. 2 mo. 7 da. (63)) Delila was a daughter of Charles and Rachel Shannon. Charles was of Scotch descent and came from Virginia to McDonough Co. in 1830.

Richard was 16 years old when the family moved from Ky. to Ill. In 1871 he and Delila were both still living on the farm on which they settled in 1834 soon after their marriage. The land was located in section 30, New Salem Twp., McDonough Co.

Richard often told of the hard times from 1838 to 1845. The nearest markets were Beardstown, 40 miles to the south, and Warsaw on the west. New Orleans sugar was 16 2/3 cents per pound; coffee, 25 cents, calico, 50 cents per yd.; hogs from $1.00 to $1.25 per hundred pounds; and wheat, 20 cents per bu.

Richard and Delila were the parents of twelve children -- five sons and seven daughters -- eight of whom were still living in 1871.

Children:

- 1-8 Elizabeth Pennington, the oldest, (56), b. 15 Jan. 1835, in McDonough Co., Ill.; d. 25 Oct. 1913, Sciota, Ill.; m. Abyah Thomas Marrs, (b. 12 Feb. 1831, Thompkinsville, Ky.; d. 29 Jan. 1900, Pennington Point, Ill.)(63). In 1871 they were living on section 25, Scotland Twp., McDonough Co.

Section IX

ABIGAIL PENNINGTON

8-6 ABIGAIL PENNINGTON, youngest child and only daughter of Richard and Hannah (Boone-Stewart) Pennington, was born 24 January 1787, in North Carolina and died in Alabama, date and place unknown. (68)

On 20 December 1804, she was married in Barren County, Kentucky, to William Gist, Jr. (William; Benjamin) born in North Carolina. (69)

They moved to White County, Tennessee, in 1806 along with William's father and Abigail's brother, Joshua, who in that same year had married Mary 'Polly' Gist sister of William.

After 1806 we find the name 'William Gist' listed in many court records of White County, but no distinction is made as to whether it is William Sr. or William Jr. (70)

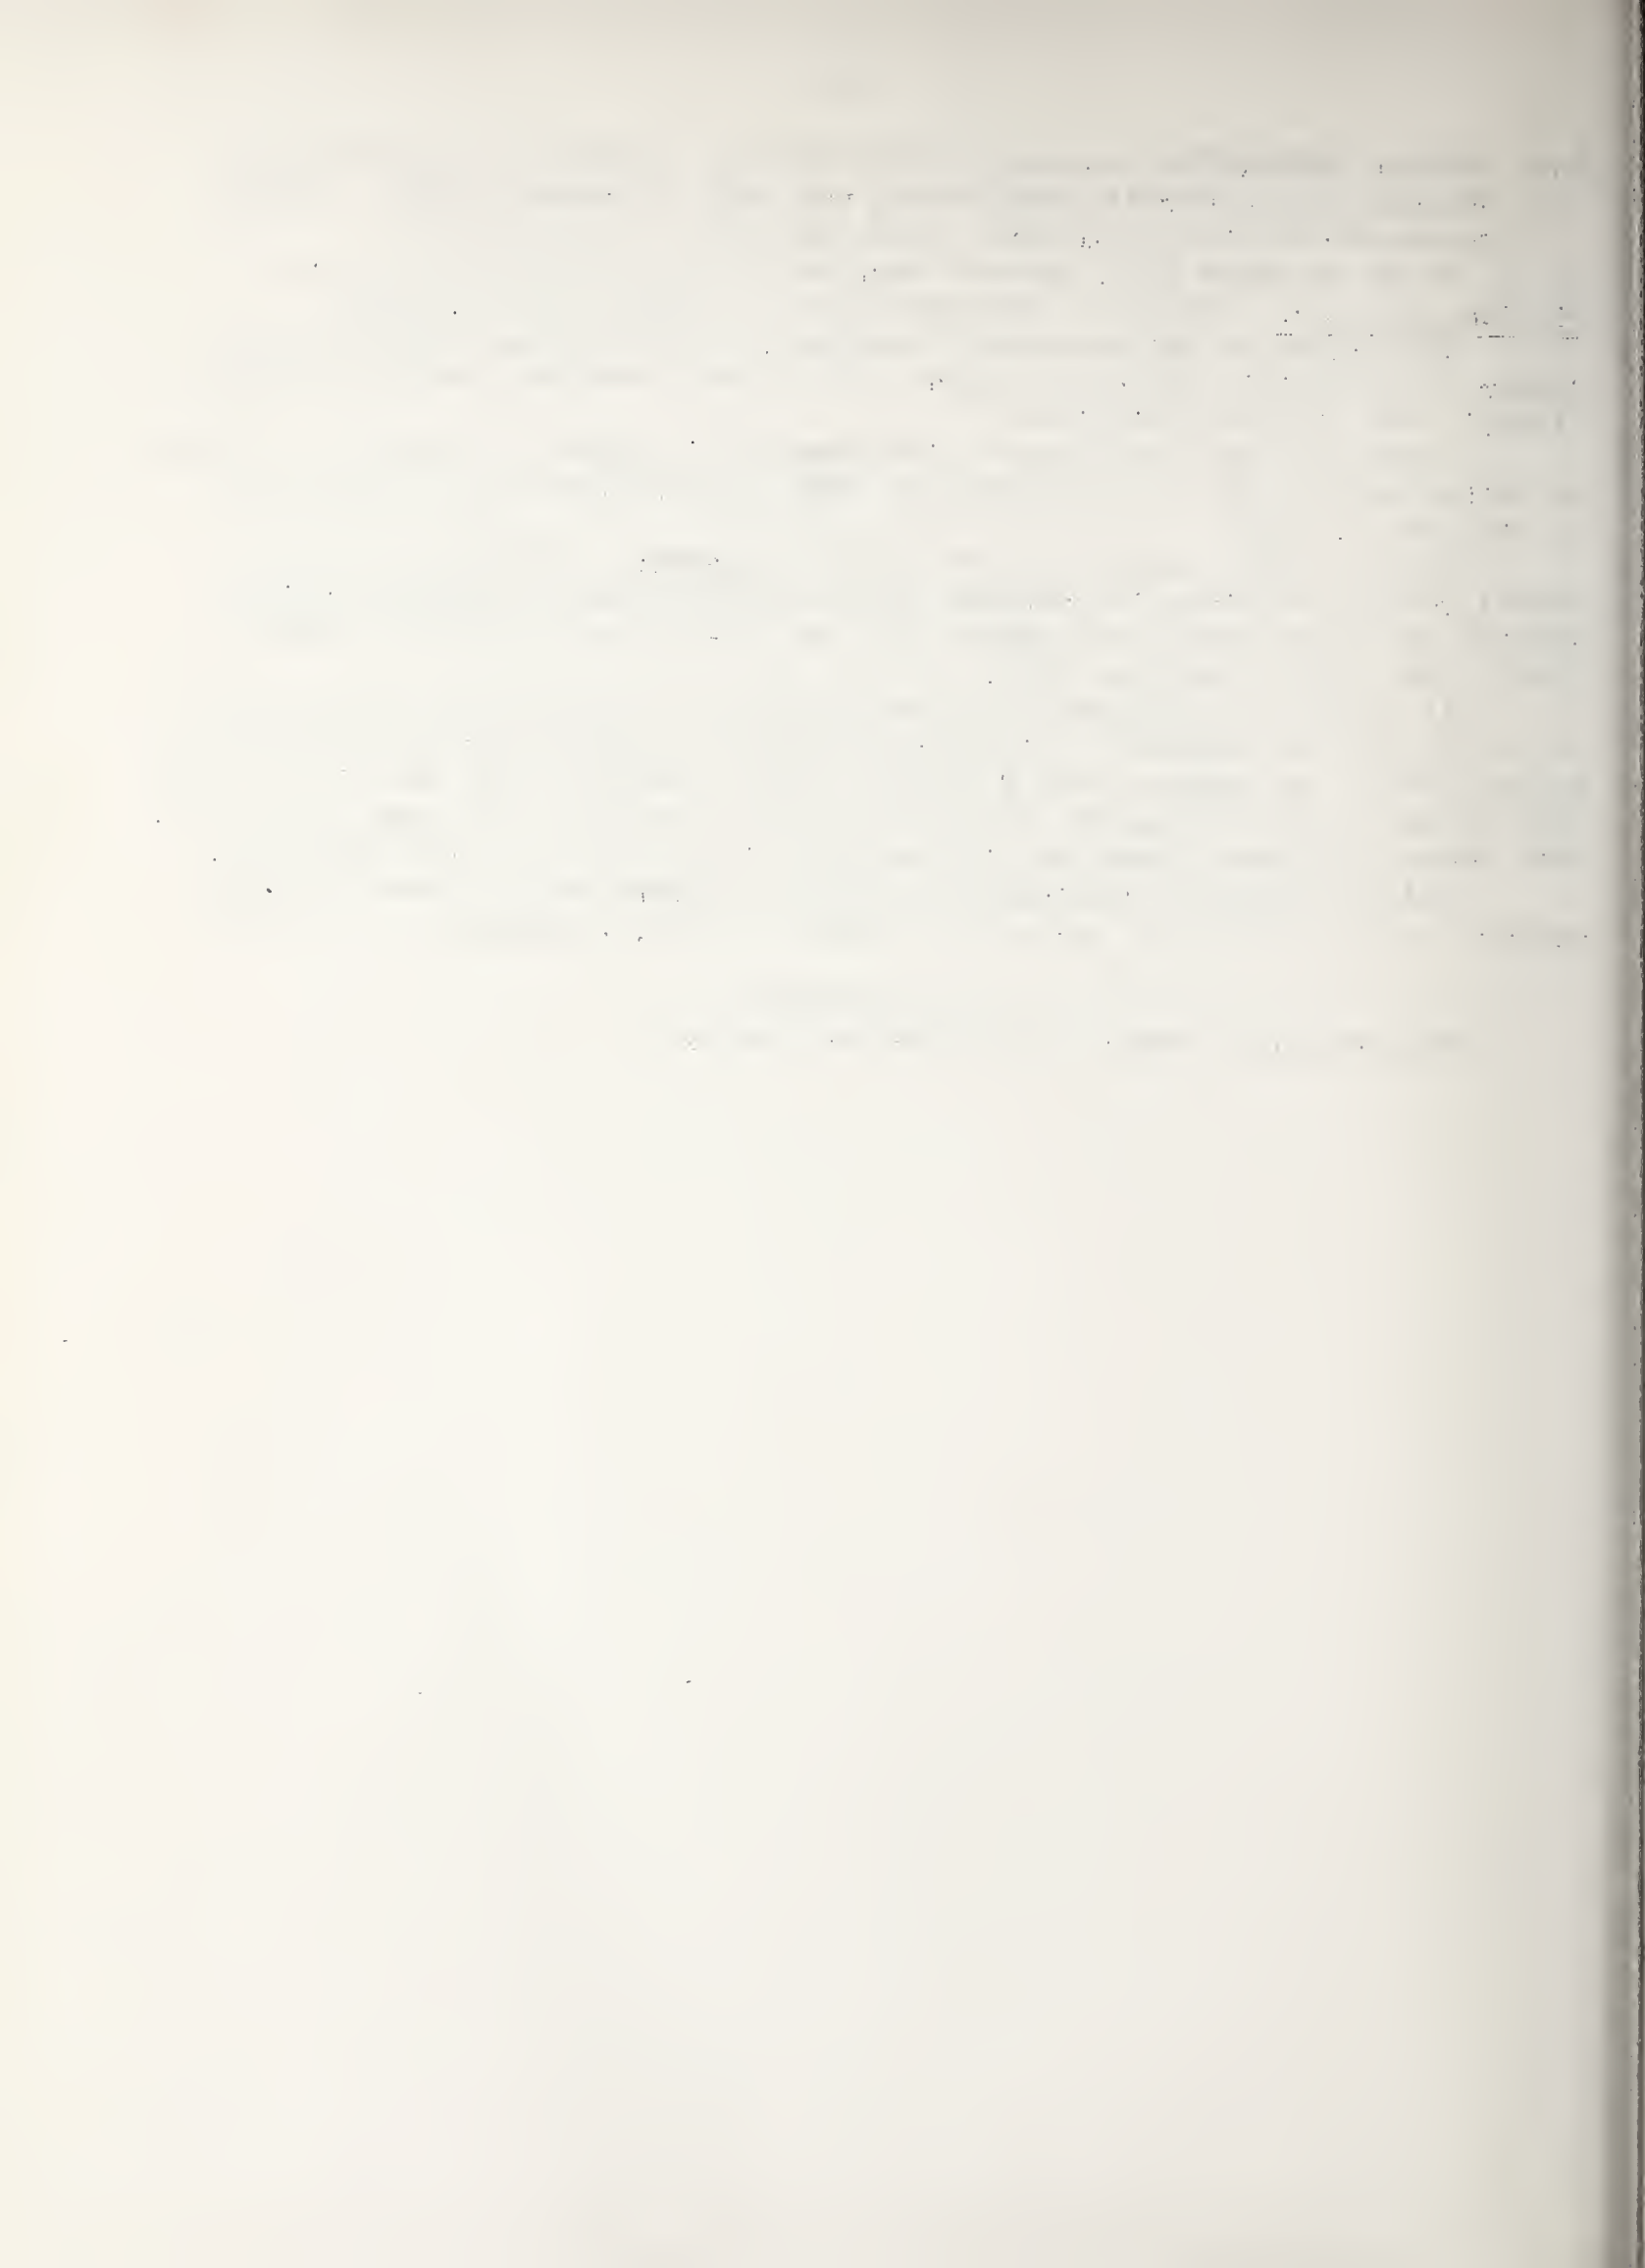

At some later time the Gists moved to Alabama, probably to Jackson County where a William Gist appears on the 1840 census as having a family consisting of one male 50-60 years old; one, 10-15; one, 5-10; one female 15-20; two, 10-15; and one, 5-10.

If this is our William Gist, and it could very easily be since his age is in the correct bracket, it is apparent that his wife, Abigail, had died before 1840. By going a step further, if the youngest child was five at the time of the census taking in 1840, he [or she] must have been born about 1835. This makes it evident that the William Gist listed lost his wife 1835-1840.

This is the only William Gist found in Alabama and the name does not appear in the 1850 Census records of Jackson County, Alabama.

Children:

The names and number of children are unknown.

THE GIST FAMILY

Since there were so many intermarriages in the Pennington and Gist families and even some in the Osborn branch, it seemed advisable to give a little history of the Gists. (71)

William Gist, son of Benjamin, born about 1766, Union county, South Carolina; died probably before 1830, in White county, Tennessee; married Rebecca. (b. about 1770).

He was living in western North Carolina in 1787 when he signed the petition to form a new state. (72)

In 1791 a deed of conveyance from Bartholomew Wood to Thomas Wood of land on the Little Chuckey in Greene County was proved by oath of William Gist as witness. (73)

On 9 August 1796, William Gist was living in Knox County, Tennessee, where he bought from William Reed 150 acres on the waters of Beaver Dam Creek on the dry fork, including "William Gist's improvement, whereon he is now living". On 16 November 1799, he sold to John Gist of Knox County 75 acres lying on Beaver Dam Creek, including the plantation "whereon said John Gist now lives". (74)

Shortly after this William Gist moved to Barren county, Kentucky, where he received a grant of 200 acres on Line Creek from the County Court in July 1801. On 6 June 1806, he sold this land to James Tadlock. (75) From here he moved to White county, Tennessee, with his married son, William Gist Jr., his son-in-law Joshua Pennington and other friends and neighbors.

William Gist served on the jury in White county on 16 April 1807.

In February 1808, he was appointed with others to lay out and mark the road from the intersection of the road laid out by the Court of Warren county to Nashville. He served on the jury many times. (76) The name of William Gist appears on the tax lists of White county from 1811 to 1829 and perhaps longer. (77)

On 10 October 1810, he bought from William Robinson 122 acres on the west side of Calfkillicker Fork (White Co.). About three years later, on 26 February 1813, he sold 19 acres to John Jett. (78) Between the years 1816 and 1829 a William Gist paid taxes on 70 acres of land on Calfkillicker River. This may have been William Jr. but was more probably William Sr. (77) On 3 December 1818, he received a grant of 30 acres in White county from the State of Tennessee, and again on 19 March 1824, he was given two other 10 acre grants. (79)

The name of William Gist does not appear on the 1830 census record of White county. Rebecca Gist, who may have been his widow, age 50-60, is given with a number of young children, some of whom may have been her grandchildren.

The children of William and Rebecca Gist were:

1. Mary 'Polly' Gist, m. Joshua Pennington [see his history]
2. William Gist Jr., m. Abigail Pennington [see her history]
3. Rebecca Gist, m. 1 Nov. 1801 George Chism (Barren Co., Ky., original marriage bond) and lived in Barren Co.

Probably there were other children.

John Gist of Loudoun county, Virginia, who may have been a son of Richard Gist of Maryland, married Mary and had a son William (b. 1760, in Va.; d. 1834 in Fayette Co., Ky.).

This William married Mary Gatewood, and their daughter, Margaret Gist (b. 1796 Fayette Co., Ky.; d. 1873, Jessamine Co., Ky.) married on 27 October 1813 (80) William Turner Bryan.

William Turner Bryan was the son of Daniel Boone Bryan and Edith Turner. [see No. 111, p. 129, "The Boone Family" by Hazel A. Spraker].

Daniel Boone Bryan was a son of William Bryan and Mary Boone, sister of Daniel Boone, the Kentucky pioneer.

In Glen G. Clift's "Governors of Kentucky, 1792-1942" (81), we find that General Charles Scott, Governor of Kentucky "died October 22, 1813, at Cane-wood, the Clark county home of his second wife, Judith Cary (Bell) Gist".

This may indicate she was a widow [born Bell] when she married General Scott. If so, who was her husband? If she were born a Gist, who were her parents?

[see Adamson chart for information about her son.]

Chart furnished by [Mrs.] Louise (Pennington) Adamson [a sister of Mrs. Linnie Adkins]. In May 1953 Mrs. Adamson's address was 2741 Alden Street, Salt Lake City, Utah.

Richard 1 Pennington Sr. had a son

Richard 2 Pennington Jr., m. Mary Bennett, grand-daughter of Joseph and Deborah (Boone) Bennett [see Spraker's "Boone Family", p. 31]. Richard Jr. and Mary had a son

John 3 Pennington, m. Winifred Thompson. They had a son
Jesse 4 Pennington, who had a dau.

Louise 5 Pennington, m. Adamson.

Mrs. Adamson writes, "these two men, Joseph Bennett and Richard Pennington, travelled from North Carolina to Kentucky across Pennsylvania, and that is where they met the Boone family." She goes on to say that Palcy Pennington left W. Va. for Idaho about 1816. She had one son, John (Minnes or Minner), who was married when they left W. Va.

20 Aug. 1846 Lillas Pennington to Elizabeth Bradford by Rev. Thomas Stone
 6 April 1843 Joshua Pennington m. to Eliza Couch by William Austin, Esq.

Note: It seems reasonable to believe that this Joshua Pennington is a son of Joshua and Polly (Gist) Pennington since he falls in the proper age bracket and in the right part of Tennessee. Then, too, in the family of Daniel Pennington, brother of Joshua, we find the name "Couch" or "Crouch" appearing in the name of his tenth child, Isaiah Crouch Pennington, born 3 April 1825.

In this same list of marriages we find Emery [who married twice], Dabney and Lillas Pennington, all of whom fall in the proper age brackets to have been children of Joshua and Polly (Gist) Pennington. Were they?

PENNINGTON and ENGLISH NOTE from DRAPER MSS. 25 S 141-151

An interview on 23 December 1786 by Dr. Lyman C. Draper with Mrs. Jane (English) Pennington.

William English and wife Catherine Patterson (daughter of Robert Patterson), parents of Jane (English) Pennington, went from Abingdon, Virginia to Kentucky and settled at Bean's Station, also called English's Fort.

All the family with the possible exception of William were captured by Indians about 1787. Eventually all were released or rescued.

The children of the family at the time of capture were Matthew, nearly nine; Elizabeth, over five; Polly, three; Jane [informant], one.

Elizabeth English married Dennis Pennington and left a family. They settled in Harrison County, Kentucky. Dennis was in the Kentucky Legislature. He died about 1854 and his wife four years later.

Very strangely the name of Jane Pennington's husband is not given.

* * * * *

Mrs. Fredora (Pennington) Lay, Attorney at Law, of London, Kentucky, wrote in 1956 that, "My father, W. A. Pennington, when a very small boy, living in the northern part of this county, found a large stone, which had fallen into a branch, with the inscription "D Boon" which my grandfather, Preston R. Pennington, had preserved and which is now mounted very near the place of discovery by the side of old U.S. 25".

Mrs. Lay related that Kager [Cager] Pennington, who was a Revolutionary War soldier, left Virginia and went into what is now Leslie county, Kentucky, where he had a number of children.

Another item is to the effect that, according to family tradition, either William or Robert, was the father of Abel Pennington, one of the first settlers in Jackson county [then a part of Owsley]. However, in 1860 when the census was taken, he was in Cumberland County, and then in 1870 was back in Jackson. Mrs. Lay says this was never fully explained "because to my knowledge or information there were no immediate ties between Abel and those living in Monroe or Cumberland county, but it is very likely they were very close kin".

OBITUARY (1888)FOR PHEBE (PENNINGTON) BECK

"Mrs. Phebe Beck, the subject of this memoir, was born in Monroe County, Kentucky, May 12, 1814, where she spent her youthful days as Phebe Pennington. Then she moved to the state of Tennessee with here parents and four years later to the state of Illinois where she was married to John C. Beck. After residing there seven years, settled in Gasconade county, Missouri, in the year 1846 and united with the Missionary Baptist church. Was left a widow February 8, 1882, and departed this life December 19, 1888. She left six sons and one daughter [Mrs. Cook, at whose house she died] to mourn the loss of a dear mother, and an only brother, Willis Pennington, ----."

[Mrs.] Jeanne E. Martin, 2943 East First Ave., Camas, Washington, furnished the above information in 1957, and it was taken from an old paper clipping that is pasted to a large picture of Phebe (Pennington) Beck sent to Mrs. Martin by Phebe's grand-daughter, child of her [Phebe's] oldest son.

WILLIAM PENNINGTON

William Pennington has the honor of being the first settler in New Salem Township, McDonough County, Illinois. (60) He was born the 25 March 1799, in Virginia and moved, when still a small boy, with his parents to Greenbrier County, Kentucky. When grown he left home and moved to Indiana and while living here, he was married to Rebecca Osborn, a native of North Carolina.

After staying here a few years he moved on to Illinois, arriving on 1 January 1828, at what is now called Pennington's Point in the southwest corner of New Salem Township, McDonough County.

Although he was one of the first settlers in that immediate vicinity the locality was given the name of Pennington's Point in 1834 by Cyrus Walker in honor of John Stewart Pennington [see the section devoted to John Stewart Pennington].

Mr. Pennington was a farmer. After living for three years in New Salem Township he bought land at Spring Creek in Emmett Township in the northern part of the county. This land was still owned by his sons in 1885.

It is not known when Rebecca, his wife, died but Mr. Pennington died in 1881. They were the parents of ten children, some of whose descendants are probably still to be found in that section of Illinois. The children were-- (1) Moses, (2) Elijah, (3) Elisha, (4) Nancy, (5) Alfred, (6) Oliver P., (7) William R., (8) Eli A., (9) Joel R., and (10) John L. Pennington, six of whom were still living in 1885.

RIGGS PENNINGTON

Riggs Pennington settled on the NW 1/4 of Sec. 24, in what is now Industry Township, McDonough County, Illinois, in the spring of 1826. (57) He made his settlement about one mile southeast of the present town of Industry in the timber. As did nearly all the pioneers of that day, he completely ignored the rich prairie land when making his settlement. He lived here for a few years, then moved to Knox County, Illinois. In 1837, he migrated to Texas, where he died. (60).

* * * * *

JOEL PENNINGTON

Joel Pennington was born in 1803 in Kentucky and died 7 May 1865, probably in McDonough County, Illinois. He was married in Kentucky to Elizabeth Smith on 14 March 1822, and sometime prior to 1824 moved to Franklin County, Illinois. About two years later (1826) they settled in Schuyler County, at which time there were only twelve white families in the county. He served as sheriff of that county for seven years prior to 1836. In April of that year he moved to what is now McDonough County, having served as sheriff for that county before its organization. He was Justice of the Peace and County Commissioner for a number of years. His wife, Elizabeth, died 14 February 1861. Names of two sons and their children are known. They are William R. and David A.

William R. Pennington was born 16 March 1824 in Franklin County, Illinois, and was still living in 1885 in McDonough County, Illinois. When he was two years old his parents moved to Schuyler County, where they lived for ten years before moving, in April 1836, to Industry Township, McDonough County. In 1858 he was married to Sarah Ann Conner (d. 25 Dec. 1879), and moved to Sec. 18 Eldorado Township, where he had lived ever since. He held office as Constable and Justice of the Peace and acted as school director for a number of years. He and Mrs. Pennington were the parents of ten children - (1) Elnora, m. Henry Snowdon, Eldorado Township; (2) J. M. living at home; (3) Letitia, m. Ross Miller of Industry Twp.; (4) Roswell; (5) Edgar R.; (6) Elliott; (7) Angeline; (8) Charles; (9) Edith; (10) Archie. The seven youngest children were living with their father in 1885.

David A. Pennington, 2nd son of Joel and Elizabeth, was born 8 October 1828, in Schuyler County, Illinois. In 1853 he was married to Elizabeth Sharman, daughter of William Sharman a very early settler of McDonough County, and both he and his wife were living in 1885. (60) Until he was twenty-four he stayed at home, working on his father's farm. He took advantage of such opportunities as were to be had to obtain an education, going to the district School in the winters and working the rest of the time on the farm. After his marriage he became the owner of a good farm in Industry Township. Seven children, two of whom were still living in 1885, were born to David and Elizabeth - (1) Ruan B. and (2) Arthur H. were living in 1885, and those who had died were - (3) Dona E.; (4) Minerva C.; (5) Gertrude G.; (6) Mary E.; and (7) an infant daughter.

* * * *

Alfred J. Pennington, born in 1827 in Schuyler County, Illinois, was living in 1878 in Emmett Township, McDonough County, Illinois. It is possible he was a son of Joel and Elizabeth (Smith) Pennington.

Perry Pennington, born 29 July 1828 in McDonough County, Illinois, was living in 1878 in Emmett Township, McDonough County. Who was his father?
